Young art campers get down to earth

Area youth have been letting their creative side shine this summer at the Art Camp in rural Milton, which offers a series of week-long camps. Clockwise from top left, Natalie Turnhout, 12, arranges some of her Styrofoam planets around the orange sun in her creation of 'The Universe' at the 'Earth Wind Fire Water' camp. Eight-year-old Georgia Pitkanen glues a plastic bead for her project. Julianna Turnhout, 10, works on colouring her dinosaur cut-outs. Lexy Currie, 11, displays her miniature pond diorama, complete with tall grass, cattails, a boat and a dock.
