

IceHawks sink further into basement with lopsided losses

Thought things couldn't get any worse for the IceHawks? Think again.

Simply unable to compete with most teams these days, the 'in-over-their-head' young juniors suffered four blowout losses during the past week and are in serious threat of assuming long-term residency in the league basement.

Monday's 8-2 defeat in Buffalo was actually the best the IceHawks fared over their hectic four-games-in-five-days stretch — at least on the scoreboard.

But the 72 shots they gave up suggests it was every bit the dismantling of the three previous mismatches, which when combined with their latest loss saw Milton outscored 36-4.

Justin Periera netted three of the four goals for the IceHawks, who haven't scored on their last 46 powerplays. Their overall output with the man-advantage now stands at a dismal 8.5 per cent.

Now 2-13-1, Milton's early-season woes are likely to continue Friday, when they host the still unbeaten (as of last night) Kingston Voyageurs. Game time, as always, is 7:30 p.m. Sunday they visit Aurora.
