SPIEGELAU
THE CLASS OF GLASS

Throughout the world, there is a fast growing range of different beers just waiting to be discovered. In order to get most out of the characteristics of beer (appearance, aroma, taste, finish) it is essential to choose the right glass. To cover all these aspects, we at Spiegelau used our expertise and 500 years experience in making crystal to develop three elegant, especially thin blown beer glasses matching the world's most common beer styles.

STEMMED PILSNER

The tulip shaped glass is the most popular one in the world and fits a variety of beer styles. The open mouth allows for an intense release of flavours. Ideal for:

- Belgian style ales
- Pilsner

Capacity 400 ml - 14 oz

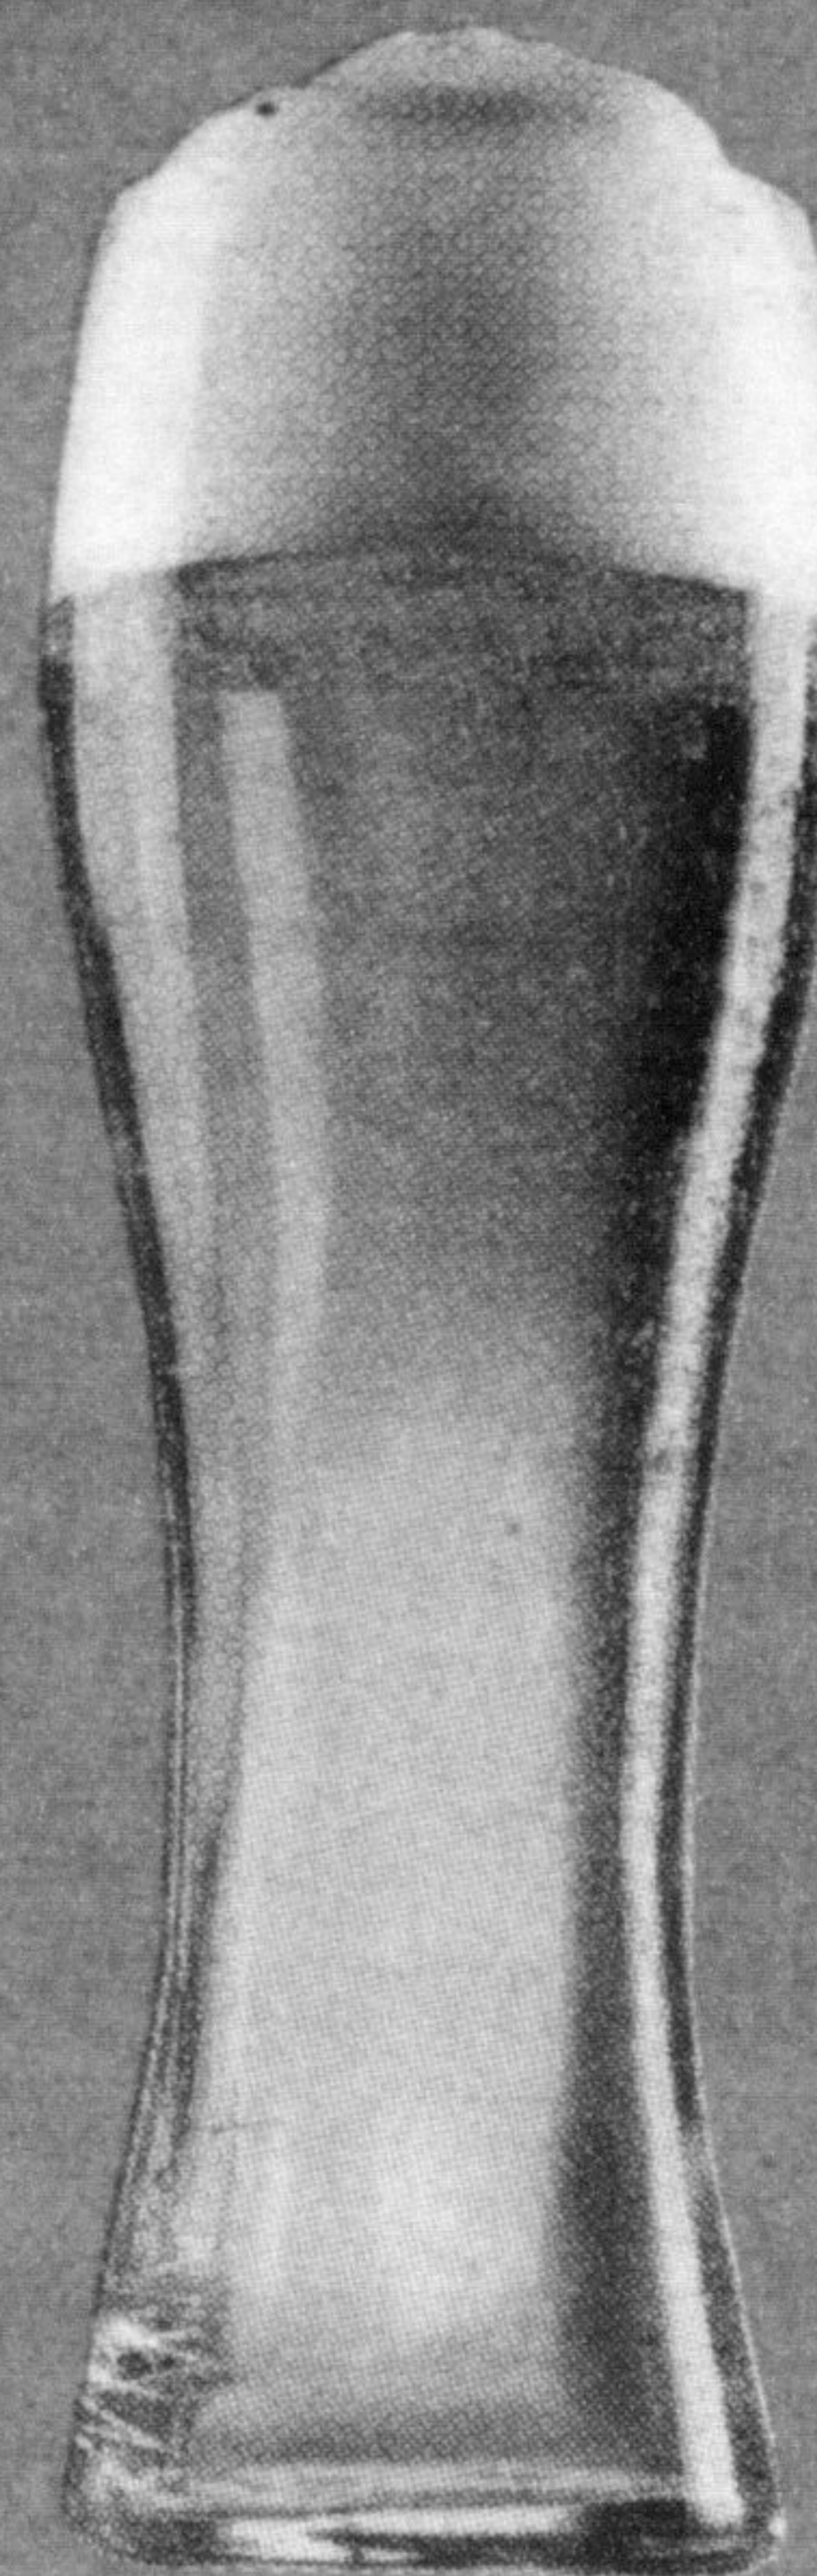

LAGER

A typical feature of this glass is the fact that it holds 0.5 litres - an amount which corresponds roughly to a pint. Being slightly wider at the mouth than at the foot, this glass properly presents the typical flavours and aromatics of:

- Pale lagers
- Ales
- English Strong Ale
- German "Helles"

Capacity 500 ml - 17 1/2 oz

WHEAT BEER GLASS

This design of this tall glass accentuates the aromas and flavours naturally found in wheat beers. It requires a slow gentle pour at the beginning and when the beer is almost full, a more direct pour to create a thick, creamy foam. Use for:

- German wheat beers
- Belgian White (Witbier)
- Wheat Ale

Capacity 700 ml - 24 oz
