

Jazz series to start in 2010

Organizers are jazzed to announce the return of a popular concert series.

The 2010 Jazz at the Museum series will kick off Sunday, Jan. 10 with music from two members of the Hot Jazz String Quartet.

As with all the shows in the jazz series, this concert will take place at Halton Region Museum — in Kelso Conservation Area — in the Hearth Room.

It'll run from 2 to 4 p.m.

Featured will be Drew Jurecka on violin and Jesse Barksdale on guitar, two talented musicians who count Django Reinhard, Dizzie Gillespie and Louis Armstrong among their influences.

"Their unique gypsy jazz sound will perfectly complement the museum's rustic charm, with its hand-cut stone walls and fireplace," said Steve Baker, chair of the Halton Region Museum Foundation.

Tickets cost $20 at the door and include snacks;

a cash bar will be available.

Seating is on a first come, first served basis.

To avoid park fees, guests should mention the concert to gate staff upon entering.

The upcoming line-up — back by popular demand — will represent a wide range of jazz styles by musicians from across the GTA.

The series serves as a fundraising event for the museum foundation in support of the museum's capital renovation campaign.

"I'm really pleased with the series and glad we are able to continue to offer a top-notch line-up for 2010," Baker said.

"In a very intimate and culturally-rich setting, jazz lovers have a chance to experience incredible talent at an affordable price."

Other concerts in the series will take place February 14 with the Vickie Van Dyke Trio, March 14 with the Sultans of String, April 11 with Tyler Yarema and Terry Wilkins, and May 9 with The Three Guitars.

All concert dates are Sundays.
