REPORTER HONOURED: Champion reporter Stephanie Hounsell accepts the Best Police News Writing award from Halton Regional Police Services Board Chair Bob Maich (left) and Halton Police Deputy Chief Bob Percy last Thursday. The award recognized her story on a stabbing last year at the local skate park. On the same night, Hounsell was also honoured by the Canadian Community Newspapers Association for her coverage of last summer's tornado, which took top honours for Best News Story for newspapers with circulations of more than 12,500.

LeBlanc earns award

Once again, the Champion has proven it can compete with the best of 'em.

Last week, news/sports editor Steve LeBlanc was presented an award in the Ontario Community Newspaper Association (OCNA)'s 2009 Better Newspaper competition.

LeBlanc received a third-place award in the Arts and Entertainment category for a feature he wrote on graphic novelist Faith Erin Hicks.

His was one of nine awards garnered by Metroland's Halton Division newspapers, with the Burlington Post winning first place in the General Excellence category in its circulation class.
