Volkswagen's popular Golf goes electric

At November's Los Angeles Auto Show, Volkswagen offered Canadian media their first chance to get behind the wheel of the Golf blue-e-motion zero-emissions electric vehicle.

Drivers experienced the pure electrically powered version of the most successful European car ever built, the Golf.

For Volkswagen, 2013 is the key year of electric mobility. First the brand starts into the age of pure electric driving by introducing the all-electric Up! and shortly afterwards the Golf blue-e-motion.

The five-door and five-seat Golf blue-e-motion is silently driven by an electric motor that delivers a high maximum torque (199 lb/ft) from a stop, resulting in a true zero-emissions Volkswagen driving experience.

The electricity for powering the electric motor is stored in a lithium-ion battery with an energy capacity of 26.5 kilowatt-hours. The Golf blue-e-motion joins Volkswagen's many other responsible mobility options, including TDI Clean Diesels, hybrids and bio-fuel powered vehicles.

Energy-conscious driving with impressive performance

The Golf blue-e-motion features a driving range of up to 93 miles; however, the specific range will depend on driving style and factors such as the use of air conditioning and heating.

The aerodynamic Golf blue-e-motion offers ample power and has features that ensure energy is preserved while driving. For example, the vehicle can coast or "sail," whenever the driver releases the electric pedal.

Son makes family $10,000 winner at Milton Kia

Imagine the excitement of buying a brand new car and then having that experience amplified by winning $10,000 at the same time. That is exactly what happened on November 30th at Milton Kia when Diego Mayorga & Lorena Montalvo and their son, Nicolas purchased their family's brand new 2011 Kia Sorento.

As part of their Spin and Win November and December promotion, Kia Canada was offering one Grand Prize of $10,000 in Ontario in November. When the Mayorga family purchased their brand new car, they got a chance to "Spin and Win" to see what cash prize they would receive. Diego &

Lorena, not sure what box to choose allowed Nicolas to make the choice and he won $10,000 for his Mom and Dad!

Kia Canada and Milton Kia congratulate the Mayorga family on their Grand Prize win and remind you that one more $10,000 Grand Prize is still out there for December!
