Wants staff comparisons

Milton Council will investigate comparisons in staff complements both at the Milton area level and at the regional level and make comparisons to the same figures for last year.

Asked why he wanted the information, Councillor Rick Day said he would analyse the figures and "if I find the region out to lunch, I'll blast them."

Councillor Jim Watson warned that comparisons between the county and the region were difficult to make and he noted the region could ask for the same data about the town.

"That's not a bad idea. We may as well know, rather than sit here and wonder," Day said.
