Frankel workers pick USWA union

More than 300 workers at Frankel Steel in Milton have chosen the United Steelworkers of America over a rival building trades union in a vote counted last Friday at the Ontario Labour Relations Board's Toronto offices. The Frankel workers voted 183 to 55 to reject the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers—a building trades union recently expelled from the Canadian Labour Congress. Steelworker Representative Gerry Barr says the vote is a clear decision by Frankel workers to remain within Canada's "House of Labour", the 2.3 million member Canadian Labour Congress.
