Third-period blitz ends Wheelers' aim

A five-goal third-period blitz spurred Georgetown for an 8-3 win as Milton Fifth Wheel major bantams came close to snuffing out Georgetown's unbeaten string Sunday at Georgetown.

Wheelers played the first two periods on even terms with Georgetown and were a definite threat to end the string.

However, Georgetown walked in on Milton goalkeeper Shawn Carnegie almost as will in the final frame with five unanswered goals, including four in a four-minute stretch before the period was half over, to seal the win.

Georgetown opened the scoring less than two minutes after the opening whistle when a weak shot was deflected past a screened Carnegie. Georgetown made it 2-0 before the period was out.

Wheelers got rolling and narrowed the gap to a single tally when Trevor Riebot scored an unassisted tally three minutes into the middle frame. Two minutes later, Marshall Cram set up Tracy Harding and Wheelers tied the score.

With a minute left in the period, Georgetown again took the lead 3-2. But with just six seconds showing on the clock, Mike Mangotich took a pass from Bruce Syer to even the score heading into the dressing room.

It took Georgetown four minutes to take the lead and then ran away with the score as Carnegie was left alone on several occasions.

Giannuzzi sparkles between T-Birds' pipes

Sparkling goalkeeping from Alex Giannuzzi paced Milton Trafalgar Ford major peewees to a 2-0 whitewash of Oakville Sunday at Memorial Arena.

Giannuzzi turned in one of his best efforts of the year. Milton took the lion's share of penalties 8-4 and Giannuzzi was called upon several times during short-handed situations to come up with some key saves.

Rob Wilson opened the scoring for T-Birds with a goal from Scott Ellwood while Andrew Wilson supplied the insurance marker skating around the Oakville net before surprising the Oakville netminder with a quick wrist shot for the second goal. Stuart Thorne assisted.

It marked T-Birds second game of the week. Dundas scored five third-period goals to take a 6-3 victory last Wednesday at Dundas.

Rob Wilson paced the T-Birds scorers with a pair of goals while Ellwood added a single. Geoff Pollen, Andrew Wilson and Scott Hinson earned assists in the game in which T-Birds encountered much difficulty getting themselves motivated.

The club has a busy Tri-County and tournament schedule coming up.

In Tri-County play, T-Birds play at Georgetown Thursday for a showdown match; play at Memorial Arena Saturday at 5.15 p.m. to Brampton; play again Sunday at 2 p.m. at Memorial Arena against Streetsville; and then five hours later take to the ice in Chinguacousy for their third game in 26 hours.

In tournament play, T-Birds will enter a Silver Stick qualifying tournament in Bramalea before travelling to Delhi and Blenheim for tournaments.

Newman's goalkeeping not enough

Despite spectacular goalkeeping from Milton's Myrna Newman, Burlington made a pair of goals stand up to earn a 2-1 win in intermediate girls hockey action Thursday.

Burlington scored single goals in the second and third periods and held Milton off the scoresheet until the final 29 seconds of the game when Janice Deakin avoided the impending shutout with a goal.

Michelle Hughes and Carolyn Grassy assisted.
