The semi-annual contest of Halton Presbytery Young People's Dramatic League took place last evening in the community hall between Lowville Y.P.L. and the Appleby League. Rev. H. W. Watts acted as chairman, and called on the Appleby players to present their play first, the title being "A Family Resemblance," which proved to be a good clean comedy sketch, well presented. The Lowville players presented "The Doctor," in a very creditable manner. The judges were Miss Jardine, Mr. McArthur, of Milton, and Mr. Fairbrother, of Milton. After a short period of deliberation the unanimous decision was given by Mr. McArthur in favor of Lowville. Music between the acts was given by Rose Bros., of Nelson, and solo by Mr. E. Busch, of Milton. The latter were very heartily applauded by the large audience. Lunch was served by the Appleby ladies at 4.30 o'clock.—Burlington Gazette.

WEDDINGS.
HITT-CUNNINGHAM.
Grace Anglican Church, Milton, was, on Saturday, April 30, the scene of the marriage of Annie Rae Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cunningham, of Kirkcubright, Scotland, to Mr. Gordon M. Hitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hitt, of Milton. Rev. Canon Naflet officiated. The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Robt. Nelson, of Toronto, wore a gown of ivory lace made in princess style and carried a bouquet of Tulleman roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Elizabeth McLintock, cousin of the bride, was in a baby blue crepe frock and carried a rainbow bouquet of sweet peas and baby's breath. Mr. Fred Smith, of Milton, was best man. A largely attended reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where the groom's mother received with the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Hitt will reside in Milton district.

HOLMES-BELL.
A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bell, Milton, when their youngest daughter Sarah McGarvie, was united in marriage to John Robinson Holmes, eldest son of Mrs. J. W. Holmes, of Milton, the late Mr. Duncan Holmes, and Rev. J. N. McFaul performed the ceremony in presence of immediate friends and relatives. The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, attended by Miss Joyce Mayes. The bride was attired in white crepe and lace gown with veil caught with orange blossoms. She wore a white gold pendant, set with a diamond, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of calla lilies and maiden hair fern. The attendant wore mauve net gown trimmed with deep purple and had of eggshell mohair with shoes and stockings to match. She carried a lovely old fashioned bouquet of spring flowers. The groom was attended by Mr. Clifford Hays, of Milton. A reception was held after the ceremony, the tables being beautifully decorated in yellow and white, and a profusion of yellow daffodils decorating the reception room. Later Mr. and Mrs. Holmes left on a motor trip to the States and Montreal, the latter travelling in a lawn tailored coat, a lawn fox scarf and matching accessories.
