ONTARIO CRIPPLED CHILDREN WEEK, APRIL 8th to 14th

Most cripples are made, not born. 80% of deformity is due to disease or accidents. The principal disease responsible for the 400 Ontario children who are crippled each year are Infantile Paralysis, Tuberculosis and Rickets. There are 8,000 physically disabled children in the Province and only 16% started life with a disability. In order to help these children, the need for constant watchfulness and care, 25 provincial organizations are joining forces in a province-wide educational crusade known as Ontario Crippled Children Week. During this "Week" April 8th-14th, through the Press, Motion Pictures, Radio and addresses to organizations, an effort will be made to bring this message into every home.

There are 30 organizations including Junior Red Cross, the Shrine and many service clubs who will assist in the care of children already crippled. If the parents are not financially able to pay for expert treatment, a very little thought will convince our citizens of the tremendous value of this community service. Every child has the right to look forward to the day when he will be a competent self-supporting citizen. It will be difficult for him to make his way in this competitive age if he must face life with a physical handicap. Childhood is the time for correction. The facilities, for care and treatment are already provided. Further information on the subject and advice on the treatment of individual cases may be obtained by writing to Ontario Crippled Children Week, 5 Queen's Park, Toronto.

LOWVILLE.

The funeral of the late Wm. Pickett took place on Friday afternoon last at the United Church for service and was largely attended. Interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. J. C. Kelly, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Rev. W. K. Allen, of Pansy, and Rev. G. F. Atkinson, of Carlisle.

Miss Lillian Gastle, of Carlisle, spent the week-end with Miss Mary Gunby. The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. will be held on Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Norris.

W. E. Harbottle, of Dayton, Ohio, spent the Easter holidays with his brothers and sister-in-law here.

Mrs. H. A. Foster spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Lucille Walker, Burlington.

A good crowd turned out to the congregational supper on Tuesday evening at St. George's Church. All enjoyed the supper provided by the ladies, and took part in community singing. The short programme included numbers by Miss Myrtle Dales and Miss Marion Gastle, as well as a short play in which Miss Bernice Twiss and Miss Mac Twiss and Ireland Jay took part. The evening concluded with an address by Dr. Judd, of Hamilton, in which he pointed out the need of the church to play in these changing times.

Hoops and Bustles at the Meet—Girls Will Wear Bloomers Next

Practicalists prevailed when the committee in charge of the Milton county field day met to decide on what costume was right and modest for young Amazons determined to break all records in sprint races, high jumps and throwing the javelin. The ladies will only have to wear bloomers, bustle and hoop skirts advocated by the practicalists and modernists, who held out in favor of the regulation running shorts. As a compromise, bloomers were agreed upon and will be made compulsory.

As for the boys, a good slide will compete, for spikes have been barred. J. M. Doves heads the committee in charge, which is composed of E. O. Cathcart, Brenton Keith W. Brown, Milton; H. W. D. Brown, Mount Forest; Melville Robinson, Grand W. J. Hodgins and Wilfred J. Bridle complete the committee.

Hornby Women's Institute.

A very successful cooking class was held at the home of Mrs. S. Leannont last week, under the auspices of Hornby W. M. I. Miss J. Kelly performed the ceremony which united in marriage Eva Marion Koella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Koella, to Mr. Mervyn Edwin Conison, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Conison, of Lowville. The church was decorated with Easter lilies, calla lilies and yellow daffodils, banked with ferns. The guests were adorned with white satin ribbons and bouquets of white and green. Mrs. Wm. Bryant, of Bradford, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, and Mrs. M. A. Crocker, of Toronto, sang the bride song "O Promise Me." The bridegroom entered the church on the arm of her father. Her gown was of white crepe with satin inset with lace, her veil of embroidered silk net was arranged with cap of the same material. She carried a shower bouquet of Talsman roses and Easter lilies. Miss Eleanor Conison, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore a gown of pale green print dotted with white. The groom carried a bouquet of Talsman roses. BOXING AND WRESTLING SHOW

The arrangements are complete for the boxing and wrestling tournament to be held under the auspices of the Canadian Legion Athletic Club in the town hall, on Saturday, April 14th. A first-class programme is lined up and the fans are assured of a splendid night's entertainment. The main event is on the card matched against outsiders, Art Grange meets a first rate boxer in Frank Felton, of Hamilton. This Felton is reckoned one of the best last day fighters, but our local boy, we think, can carry off the honors. Art has opened the eyes of quite a few doubting Thomases as to his ability. Art is no novice and will have him in for the fight, that should he win he will be considered a potential champion.

Charlie Morley is matched against a gentleman, also from Hamilton. The boy's father is a very well-known gentleman in the big business world, Piggott is his name. We are eager to see Charlie win for he has been in the Legion stable, should beat between Medland, of Oakville. Medland has an up-to-date record, but he'll have to travel good and fast and take some real punishment to put one over Collis, who carries a mule kick in each mitt.

George Watts, our whirlwind, is coming on nicely; he has the pluck and "can take it, yes all of it. We know his faults, but by the 14th he should have sufficient in one hand to win over Red Horner of Oakville.

Two midgeets from Hamilton supply the other bout on the boxing card. Both are very clever performers, having met before. This is a return bout. The redoubtable bad-man, Steve Szalay, and Jim Carter, who were the talk of the town after the last show, will tear each other apart once again, this time to a decision. For full information ask anyone who saw them before so don't miss this bout.

Earl Nelson, Oakville, and Ray Nelson, Clarkson A.C., will supply another dog fight, equal to Steve's idea of the gentle art.

Bill Carter, brother of Jim, and Bill Main will make the programme complete. These boys know what the crowd expects here, and you'll get it delivered.

Remember and secure your ticket early for we will have a full house. Ringside seats, reserved 35 cts., seats 25 cts., if available, ladies 25 cts. all seats.

THREE SUFFER INJURY IN CRASH ON HIGHWAY.

Brampton, April 2—One girl is in hospital and two men are injured as the result of an accident Saturday night when a car driven by Robert O'Connor of Milton was struck on highway No. 7, some three miles east of Brampton, by a stolen Toronto car driven at high speed on the wrong side of the well-known highway.

Kevin night and quick thinking by Miss Muriel McTigue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tisdale, of Norval, probably helped to avert a more serious mishap. Miss Tisdale is in hospital here, suffering from shock, but her condition is reported good. Mr. O'Connor's injuries from flying glass required a couple of stitches in his scalp. Douglas Dolby, Milton, escaped with minor injuries.

The driver of the stolen car did not stop. He abandoned the car a half-mile away, where it was found by provincial constables of the Police, Constables Owens and Hoffman, after finding the stolen car, spent the rest of the night—Easter Sunday morning—in an effort to trace the fugitive.

First Capital of Ohio
in Mount Builders' Land

Not only is Chillicothe, Ohio, rich hunting ground for the historian and antiquarian, but also for the archeologist. The first capital of Ohio, or some spot near it, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, may have been the capital of the mound builders, too. For within a radius of ten miles there are more than 400 earthworks, including the famous Serpent Mound and the Hopewell Earthworks. Many of these have revealed rich finds which will be preserved permanently in a museum.

Collections dug from the Ohio mounds are housed at the Smithsonian Institution, the British Museum in London and the Ohio State museum at Columbus. Chillicothe was a favorite spot later of the Indians. The name, too, was one they liked, it having been given to several of their villages. In the Indian language it is supposed to mean "Ancestral Town."

And so it became modern Ohio's "ancestral town." Headquarters for the mound builders and the Indians, for the early settlers of the Northwest territory and the new state, Chillicothe will preserve its ancient glory in the Ross County Historical society's museum.

PACK ICE GREAT BOTHER

The Ross sea pack is not uniform in width, as it is narrower in the middle than toward the ends. Before explorers had much experience with it ships went either too far to the west or east and sometimes were caught for three weeks or a month, or had to pull out and start over again. But time has shown that a point about the 130th meridian, or a few degrees east or west of it, is likely to offer the most accessible means of entrance. Its penetrability varies with the seasons; no one can tell until the attempt is made just how heavy or how wide the pack may be.

Toward the end of summer the pack breaks up or may entirely disappear. But every explorer who desires to discharge supplies tries to get through the ice as quickly as possible, hence ships have often pushed into the pack when it seemed to bar the way for an indefinite period in the hope that it would shift and break up sufficiently to let them work a slow but sure way to clear water to the south.

Reclaiming Land in Netherlands

The method of reclaiming land in the Netherlands is called impoldering. This consists in the total enclosure of a marshy area by encircling dikes. The land thus reclaimed, called a polder, is normally extremely fertile and needs little or no fertilizer. The draining of part of the Zuider Zee, provided in a law of June 14, 1918, is the largest impoldering scheme on record. The first stage added four polders to the country with a total area of about 820 square miles.

At the last meeting of the Fergus council a motion was moved, seconded, and duly carried, ordering the purchase of a pair of pants for the night watchman. Why not kites?

A California research physician received two dogs after they had been closed for six minutes. One of them, the dog will be classed with the cat and accredited with nine lives?
