

MILTON FAIR NEXT WEEK

Milton fair will be held on Friday and Saturday, September 27th and 28th. It's the county fair of Milton. The object is not entertainment, although that is not lost sight of. The County of Halton Agricultural Society has maintained its organization for many years for the purpose of promoting the interests of the farmers of the district. The prizes are well worth competing for. The quality of the horses shown has for many years been commented upon by the other parts of the province who usually attend, and have resulted in profitable business for the farmers and breeders of the county.

The fair this year promises to be up to the standard of a former year. It should be well patronized by the exhibitors and given encouragement by the people of Milton, as well as by the other sections of Halton and adjoining counties. The exhibitors and directors are urging that entries be made as early as possible.

HUGHES CLEAVER
Liberal-Progressive Candidate for Halton County

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF HALTON:

In my letter this week I will deal with the effect of high tariffs on the farmers, and in next week's letter with the effect of the high tariffs on the small business man and labor. In my opening letter I recalled to your mind the fact that Mr. Bennett's main appeal to the electors in 1930 was a promise that he would make high tariffs fight for them. He promised markets for farmers and employment for labor by the use of high tariffs.

Our member in Halton caught the spirit of the times and we heard a lot about New Zealand butter. He told the farmers of Halton to take their cream checks with them to the polls when they voted and that never again would the farmers of this country be asked to accept 40c a pound for cream.

Well, Mr. Bennett was swept into power on this high tariff policy. The tariffs were raised and New Zealand butter among other things was shut out. You farmers know the result of the story. You have never since had the chance to take 40c per pound for your cream. You will not be asked to take your cream checks with you this time when you vote.

When Mr. Bennett promised to make the tariffs light for you, I believe at that time he was quite sincere. He was viewing conditions through the glasses of a millionaire. He was a director of the Royal Bank of Canada, a director of the Imperial Oil Company, a director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, &c. He knew he could make big business prosperous by high tariffs and he apparently thought this prosperity would spill over and we would all be prosperous. He did make big business prosperous, but the "spilling over" process hasn't worked. He has made paupers out of the middle class.

Immediately after his election he called a special fall session of the house and proceeded to carry out his scheme. At this session both Mr. Bennett and his first lieutenant, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Mr. Harry Stevens, again repeated their high tariff speeches. We were told that Canada was importing annually about 800 millions of dollars worth of manufactured goods which should be manufactured in Canada, and that if these goods were made here it would give employment to Canadian workmen and we would all be prosperous, so the tariffs were raised.

On plows from 10% under Liberal rule to a total of 25%, including landing charges, tax, &c. Cultivators and harrows from ..... 7 1/2% to 25% Mowers and binders ..... 6% to 25% Flannelette, from ..... 15% to 34% Woolen blankets ..... 22% to 50%

In almost every instance the tariff which was doubled and in some instances trebled, and all of this was done for the expressed purpose of cutting down our trade imports. Well, the high tariffs worked and our import trade fell from a total of over 1,000 millions of dollars annually in 1930 to less than half of that amount in 1932. But there was one thing which apparently Mr. Bennett had overlooked, and that is the fact that foreign trade is nothing more nor less than the exchange of commodities and we cannot sell if we will not buy.

If we want to sell our surplus of farm produce, wheat, beef, &c., we must be prepared to "take goods in exchange for them." The result was that not only did Mr. Bennett cut our imports in half, but at the same time he automatically cut our exports in half, so that our total world trade was cut in half.

Another result of this policy has been that when the bottom fell out of the prices of farm produce as it did in 1930 the farmer was forced off the buying market because the price of everything he has to buy was artificially maintained by tariffs.

Farmers represent one half of our population in Canada. When one half of the buying public ceases buying is it any wonder that we have unemployment?

When the farmers represent one half of our population, it therefore follows that the farmers in Canada are performing annually at least one half of the work necessary to supply our human wants, and yet our trade reports show they are getting less than 25% of our annual wealth.

Until this inequality is remedied we cannot be prosperous in Canada. Mr. Bennett, in his radio broadcast of last week, proved to his own satisfaction that he has kept practically all of his election promises. He is quite well pleased with what he has accomplished. Are you?

Yours sincerely,
HUGHES CLEAVER.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

MARRIED
JONES-HILSON
The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hilson, Kelso, Ontario, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding at high noon on Saturday, September 14th, when their elder daughter, Edna Pearl, became the bride of Mr. Charles J. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones, Wellington, Ontario. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Canon Nafel, rector of the Anglican church, Milton, before a bowler of fall flowers banked against a beautiful cedar hedge. The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father, and wore a smart traveling suit of blue bramble knit with navy accessories, carrying a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, baby's breath and fern. The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in hewn printed crepe, while the mother of the groom wore a pretty frock of flowered silk, both having corsage bouquets of fall flowers. The bride and groom were met at the door by Mr. and Mrs. Jones left on a motor trip through the Muskoka district, and on their return will reside on Ninth Street, New Toronto. Guests were present at the luncheon at the Hamilton Hotel, Toronto. Hamilton, Milton, Guelph, Terra Cotta, Simcoe, Campbellville and Flt., Mich.

A CHEQUE FOR OUR FIRST WINTER'S FUEL

● Whether you have it given to you—or whether, perforce, you must buy it yourself—there's no pleasanter sight at this season of the year than a bin, filled to the top with a winter's supply of fuel.

● Particularly if the fuel is the modern, dustless Hamco Coke. Then you can count on cozy warmth in every room of the house, no matter how icy-cold the winds whistle 'round your eaves. And you can count on, no less work because Hamco Coke is lighter on the shovel and produces a minimum of ash. It banks economically at night and is quick on the "pick-up" when you adjust the drafts in the morning.

● And if you're on a budget—mark down your fuel costs and put the savings where you wish.
