Jensen repeats as top athlete

Thomas Jensen broke new ground at E.C. Drury High School Thursday night by being the first person to receive the Male Athlete of the Year award twice.

Claudia Massey was chosen the school's female athlete of the year.

Jensen has been a Canadian champion wrestler for the past two years and over the competitive season, which ended in May, he won 57 matches and lost only five.

Massey has participated in a wide range of school athletics including the badminton, basketball and volleyball teams and was praised by physical education teacher Jill Hurst for her enthusiasm and commitment to the school and sports.

Jason Farrow, Drury's ubiquitous sports team manager, won the Mark Vanderveen award for outstanding behind-the-scenes service. Farrow managed both Drury's cross-country and track teams.

Kathy Russell and Richard Smith split the Al Nichols-Roy Wollaston award, given to athletes for outstanding attitude and co-operation.

In a special ceremony, Drury athletics director Rob Bloxham was presented with a plaque in recognition of his six years of service at the school. Bloxham is leaving to become vice-principal at Oakville-Trafalgar.

Track coach Harvey Chapman also received a warm round of applause. Chapman, one of the most active Drury coaches, has contributed a great deal toward the construction of the school's track program. He will leave in the fall to teach at Burlington's Lester B. Pearson school.

Wrestler Thomas Jensen (left) made Drury school history as the first double winner of the Male Athlete of the Year award Thursday. Ron Williamson made the presentation.

Mohawk bats talk slam Rangers 12-1

The weather didn't co-operate with Campbellville Mohawks in OBA senior baseball Sunday, but Cambridge Rangers co-operated Saturday.

Not that they wanted to, of course. Mohawks, temporarily homeless while they watch the grass grow on their new park, handed Cambridge their second loss of the season Saturday, slamming the hometowners 12-1. Sunday Mohawks went to Dundas and were up 5-2 when the game was called due to a thunderstorm. Mohawks were three outs away from an official game at the rainout, thus forcing the game to be rescheduled.

Mohawks may not have a home park until at least the middle of the month, but they've shown themselves to be at home in other people's ball yards recently, swinging hot bats fairly consistently.

Mohawks collected 15 hits against Rangers. In Dundas, Paul Elliott slammed a three-run homer in the rain-shortened contest. Against St. Catharines the previous week, Mohawks collected 13 hits as they came from behind to beat St. Kitts 4-3.

Mohawks spread their scoring throughout the game against Cambridge Saturday, scoring twice in the first inning, once in the second, three times in the fourth, once in the fifth, twice in the eighth and three times in the final frame.

Dan Thomson collected the win, going eight innings. He allowed six hits and a walk and struck out two batters. Newcomer Kevin Ryan threw the last inning.

Mike Jarvis took the loss for Cambridge, going six innings. Mark Hutchinson finished the game. Cambridge's only previous loss had been to Dundas in extra innings.

Rick Mitchell walked for Mohawks and Joe Schouten, who had five hits in six at bats, tripled to score him. Scott Gadd singled to score Schouten.

Schouten singled and went to second on a wild throw in the second inning. Gadd singled to score him.

A parade of singles meant three runs for Mohawks in the fourth inning. Doug McCorkle, Mitchell and Schouten each singled and they all scored as Elliott and Gadd also singled.

In the fifth, Mohawk player-coach Ray Evans slammed a triple and scored on a fielder's choice. In the eighth, Steve Smith walked, stole a base and scored on Schouten's single. Schouten stole a base and scored on an error during an attempted pick-off.

Mohawks finished with flurry, scoring three runs in the ninth inning. Evans singled and advanced to second on an error, while Al Nicholson took first on an error which saw Evans move to third. McCorkle singled to score Evans and move Nicholson to third. Nicholson scored on a fielder's choice which saw McCorkle make it to second base. Schouten singled to score McCorkle.

Campbellville played in Oakville Monday night. Results were not available at press time. The wandering Mohawks return to home base for the official opening of their new Campbellville ball park June 14 for a 2:30 p.m. start against Milton's Royal City Royals.

Thanks, Mrs. Murray

Milton Swim Team coach Carole Murray received several gifts from her appreciative swimmers at the club banquet Friday. Included was the bouquet of flowers presented by Katie Riddell. The 130-member club ended their successful competitive year with the Lions Hall dinner. Swimmer Matt McTavish was the first recipient of the Jack Richardson Memorial Trophy as the club's athlete of the year. Ryan Moore received a special award as most improved swimmer. Melissa Botticella, David Crosley, Kellie Moore, Chris Smith, Bryar Ross and Steve Houle won most-improved awards in the younger age groups.

Mustangs are jr. champions 4-1 win means 1st school title

For the first time, Milton District High School Mustangs are the Halton junior soccer champions.

And the 4-1 score may make it sound like it was easy for Mustangs to defeat Nelson High at Burlington's Sherwood Forest Park Thursday.

But it wasn't.

Milton was up 2-0 at the half, playing against the wind, but Nelson rallied late in the first and through a large measure of the second half, taking the play to Milton and working Milton's defence hard.

Milton goalies Lance Postma (first half) and Bill Parchem put on strong displays, with Parchem particularly pressed in the backstretch.

As Nelson put together a strong series of offensive drives culminating in a goal around the middle of the second half a frustrated Milton backfielder yelled at his teammates "They're all over us."

There was a sharp skirmish just in front of the Milton net immediately prior to that outburst. Only a last-second clearing by a defenceman three feet from the line thwarted an almost certain Burlington goal. Minutes later Nelson hit the crossbar and the ball bounced out and just after that Nelson hit a post.

The previously somnolent Nelson crowd came alive and Burlington scored following a corner kick to make it 2-1. The comeback feeling was short-lived, however.

Sean Hasselfeldt and Geoff Pollen scored for Milton to put the game out of reach.

"They capitalized on the chances they had and we didn't," said Nelson coach Herman Koepple. It was a rude shock for Nelson. Over the course of the season they had only one goal scored against them.

"That's the tightest defence we've met all year," said Milton coach Bill Pollen after the game. "But when we scored two goals in the first half against the wind, well... I had actually only hoped to come out even against the wind (in the first half)."

Pollen admitted his team, which has a speedy, scoring-oriented defence, was tired in the second half and lapsed into a defensive shell. But with the two-goal cushion and the comeback markers, coupled with strong goaltending, Milton could afford a lapse.

Cal Lawrynowicz and Gerd Hermanns scored the first two Milton goals.

Tandem downs Ching

When you can come from behind to beat one of your main rivals, that's worth celebrating. Tandem Computers under-13 soccer reps were celebrating Thursday night.

That's because they beat Chingouacousy 5-3 in Peel-Halton youth soccer action at Milton.

Ching and Milton are old rivals. Last year Milton cost Ching first place in the second division by beating them 4-3 in their final meeting of the season.

Ching had finished second, one place and a good spread of points above Milton. They had beaten Milton 5-0 in league play.

But Thursday Milton overcame a 2-0 deficit to win as sharpshooter Gino D'Angelis scored four times and Brad Burns scored once.

"It was a brilliant game," said Milton coach John Saunderson. "We only had 11 players, with one sick and one injured. But they played great. The first five minutes they caught us napping, scoring two times on us. But we kept fighting for it and kept coming through."

Milton fashioned a 3-2 lead at the half. Ching came back to knot it but Milton scored with 10 minutes to go and added the insurance goal with two minutes remaining.

Burns scored early and D'Angelis took care of the other Milton markers.

D'Angelis continues to be a dominant force on the Milton team, with seven goals in two contests. He shows consistent improvement, Saunderson said, and is complemented by Paul Cannataro on right wing.

"We're opening up defences really well right now and creating a lot of chances," Saunderson said.

Ontario cleans up vs. New York

Larry Jaraslowski, the E.C. Drury high school wrestling coach, summed up the Ontario-New York Exchange Meet succinctly: "Ontario cleaned up."

Sunday at Drury, Ontario dominated two American teams, New York North and New York South, winning all four competitive rounds. New York North won two rounds and lost two while New York South didn't win a round.

Ontario fielded 27 competitors while the two U.S. teams brought 31 wrestlers.

It was the eighth annual meet between Ontario and its most populous neighbour, and marked an increase in fortunes for the Ontario team. At last year's meet, the Americans won the bantam age category and split with Ontario at cadet (formerly midjet).

This year Ontario defeated New York North 16-8 and New York South 18-10 in bantam. The hosts slammed New York North 21 1/2-2 1/2 and downed New York South 31-9 in cadet competition.

New York North beat New York South 15 1/2-5 1/2 in bantam and defeated them 15-8 in cadet.

Milton wrestlers fared well by and large at the meet. In bantam competition, Sam Sherratt's Sandeep Sharma beat C.J. Falcker of New York South 7-1 and downed New York North's Tony Fire 4-2. Sharma is an Ontario bantam champion. Sherratt's Kirk Rowbottom battled Ontario champion Derek Brignell aggressively in exhibition, losing by a 9-7 margin.

New York South's Tim Thurau beat Sherratt's Craig Heron by pin while Sherratt's Lee Walmsley defeated Heron by pin in exhibition action.

Rowbottom and Walmsley fought exhibitions to shore up the short-staffed American teams. Rowbottom pinned New York North's Jamie Kagut while Walmsley pinned Thurau. Milton coach Jaraslowski complimented both Sherratt wrestlers, saying the fights were "perhaps their most aggressive since they've been working with our club."

In cadet action, Canadian champion Thomas Jensen of Drury beat Kirk Warble 10-3 and Brad Spencer 7-4. Against Spencer, Jensen dominated the first round but tired in the second, allowing Spencer to come back from a 6-1 deficit. Jensen regained his composure to hold on through the last 30 seconds of the match.

Warble beat Spencer but Jensen had an easier time with him. Jensen hurt Warble with an aggressive attack and Warble wilted in round two.

Drury's Steve Browne beat New York South's John Conley 7-2 and shaded New York North's Steve Martel 7-6. Browne was behind late against Martel but scored two points to win. Against Conley, he took control late in the second with upper body throws.

Milton's Steve Lynn fought an exhibition against Ontario's Derek Jackoby and lost 14-8. Lynn battled

Frampton scores 3 Heady's win it 6-2

Fran Frampton popped in three goals to pace Heady's ladies soccer team to a 6-2 win over Oakville.

Milton led the game, but it was Chantel Reoskie who ignited the team getting the first goal. Fran Frampton then started making her mark to make the game 2-0. Oakville then came back with Linda Bowness scoring their first goal and Karen Anderson the second. Milton's Jackie Bergin scored after receiving a quick pass from midfield.

In the second half, Milton got off to a quick start as Frampton scored on a pass that came straight across the goalmouth. Jackie Bergin took the ball all the way from midfield to score an unassisted goal.

Completing her hat trick, Frampton received a pass from Bergin to score and ensure her as player of the game in this winning effort by her and Heady's team.
