

Former church members are invited back

The annual meeting of Omagh Presbyterian Church was held in the church hall on Tuesday, Jan. 26 with a good attendance.

Rev. Cecil Cunningham chaired

Omagh

the meeting and all reports were received and accepted. 1988 will be a special year for Omagh congregation as they celebrate the 150th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the church. A committee was named to organize for this event.

The first building in 1838 was a white wooden structure and was replaced in 1909 by the present fine red brick place of worship surrounded a well kept cemetery. Former ministers will be guest speakers for one Sunday each month. Rev. Rod Lewis will be the first on Feb. 7 at 11 a.m. Several descendants of the original members worship each Sunday in this church. Two members (as infants) were members at the time of the laying of the corner stone and dedication of the new building in 1909. A special service will be held and all former members will be invited to attend.

Birthday greetings to David Meek this week.

Sunday, Jan. 31, 1988 has been named as the warmest day for that date ever recorded in this area.
