

The driver of this truck climbs into the cab after his vehicle hit a van and landed in a creek Friday morning at 8:30 a.m. The accident happened at Sixth Line Halton Hills and Steeles Avenue near the Hornby ball park. This driver was charged with careless driving. The driver maneuvered his truck between a bridge abutment and hydro poles on one side and a row of trees of the other, avoiding further damage. Two large tow trucks and another truck needed an hour to pull the truck back to the road.

The Canadian Champion's newspapers were a little late being delivered Friday morning after its van was involved in an accident. The driver of the van, Doug Crabb, was taken to hospital, treated for bruises and was later released. Despite being struck in the back at a near-stopped position, the driver of the van was fortunate in that it didn't roll although it was knocked about 100 feet into a field.
