

Many of us today
don't realize
what good we have
right around us
until we leave it
for the tempting offers outside our community

By shopping out of Milton we're threatened just as the woodmouse was by big crowds, service attendants that haven't the time for your needs, and rushed into buying something you don't really want.

This community could enjoy greater prosperity if out-of-town spending were kept in our local economic bloodstream.
