Former resident opens deli-Chinese restaurant

Former Milton resident, Tim Powers, has been appointed general manager of the new Reuben & Wong Deli-Chinese Restaurant in Etobicoke.

Mr. Powers, has a lot of restaurant experience under his belt. His family runs the Fifth Wheel Truck Stop, and he recently graduated from the School of Hotel Administration at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York.

He has been involved in food service and related fields for the past 12 years. His most recent experience was with a seafood restaurant in South Carolina. Previously, he worked in a hotel in Melbourne, Australia. For the past six months he has been training in Reuben and Wong Restaurants in London, Kitchener and Waterloo.

The Etobicoke restaurant opens for business this week. The menu is a combination of deli-style food with Chinese dishes. The restaurant takes a trendy, entertaining approach to eating out. There will be a variety of finger foods, steaks, burgers and king-sized desserts on the menu.

The ambience is unique with lots of greenery, open space, an island bar with brass detailing, out-front salad and dessert bars, banquet seating, rattan furniture, mirrored walls and elevated dining areas.

The restaurant will be located in Queensway Gardens Shopping Centre across from Sherway Gardens.

The Etobicoke location is the fifth in the growing Reuben & Wong chain. The first opened in London in 1985. Others followed in Kitchener and Waterloo, then a second London restaurant opened last fall.

Red Anchor open Sundays

The new owner of Red Anchor Fish and Chips at White Oaks Plaza wants his booming business to grow by opening Sundays.

Steve Riley, a former Maplehurst Correctional Centre officer for 13 years, hopes to attract some new customers with the added hours of operation. The eat-in and take-out restaurant is closed Mondays and is open other days from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. except Friday when hours extend to 8 p.m. and Sundays when the shop will now be open from noon to 6 p.m.

In addition to fish and chips, the restaurant dishes out meat pies and chicken fingers among other specialties.
