

What came first?

The egg?

The duck?

In some key places, Ducks Unlimited Canada and other conservationists have been coming first. For more than 50 years we've been building, improving and managing the wetlands and uplands where ducks can hatch and grow — areas that are essential to hundreds of other living things, including people. We've been in the forefront because we know what really must come first.

Residents waging water war in Kilbride

Some of the citizens of Kilbride are up in arms.

On Tuesday, Sept. 26 at 7:30 p.m. the battle will begin at the Kilbride Community Centre. Kilbride citizens want water guarantees and they are willing to fight for them.

Members of both Burlington and Halton councils will be on hand as well as planning staff from both levels of government.

The meeting will give the citizens a chance to air their concerns and the various officials an opportunity to explain the situation. Kilbride is experiencing a growth in development, mainly in estate residential subdivisions.

People in the area are concerned about the availability of water.

According to Sheila Zych, co-ordinator of the citizen's group, some people have had long-standing wells run dry.

The question Ms Zych raises is not putting a stop to development it is merely protecting those who are already home owners in the area.

Bell service topic of meeting

When are Miltonians going to get less of that long-distance feeling?

That question and more will be answered at the next Milton Chamber of Commerce general meeting when Bell area manager Nancy Creede and technical specialist Doug Brown are guest speakers.

The topic of the meeting will be "1990 Bell Canada Improvements and Extended Area Calling". The dinner meeting will be held Thursday, Sept. 28 at the Muddy Duck Restaurant. Refreshments at 6:30 and dinner at 7 p.m.

Cost to Chamber members, is $12 and to non-members, $15. RSVP by Monday, Sept. 25 to 878-0581.
