Ready to roast

This truck load of corn from Reidpath's farm was delivered to Campbellville Country Court plaza Saturday afternoon for a free corn roast. The corn roast was held in conjunction with a Moonlight Madness sale by plaza merchants. The evening's highlight was a performance by Southern Steele. The plaza is located at the corner of Guelph Line and Crawford Crescent. From left to right the corn deliverers were Michele Stanfield, Curtis Behnke, Clint Stanfield, Jobe Reidpath and Tom Poloni.

Unmarked cruisers policing Hwy 401

The next time you drive on the QEW or the 401 pay close attention to the other vehicles on the roadway, especially if you happen to be exceeding the speed limit. The car behind you might be a police cruiser.

Number Three District of the OPP has formed a new traffic unit to combat the high number of motor vehicle accidents that have occurred this year on provincially patrolled highways.

Police officers, utilizing unmarked police cruisers and motorcycles equipped with radar will focus their attention on those hazardous violations that are the major causes of accidents and injuries, speeding, following too close and failure to wear seat belts.

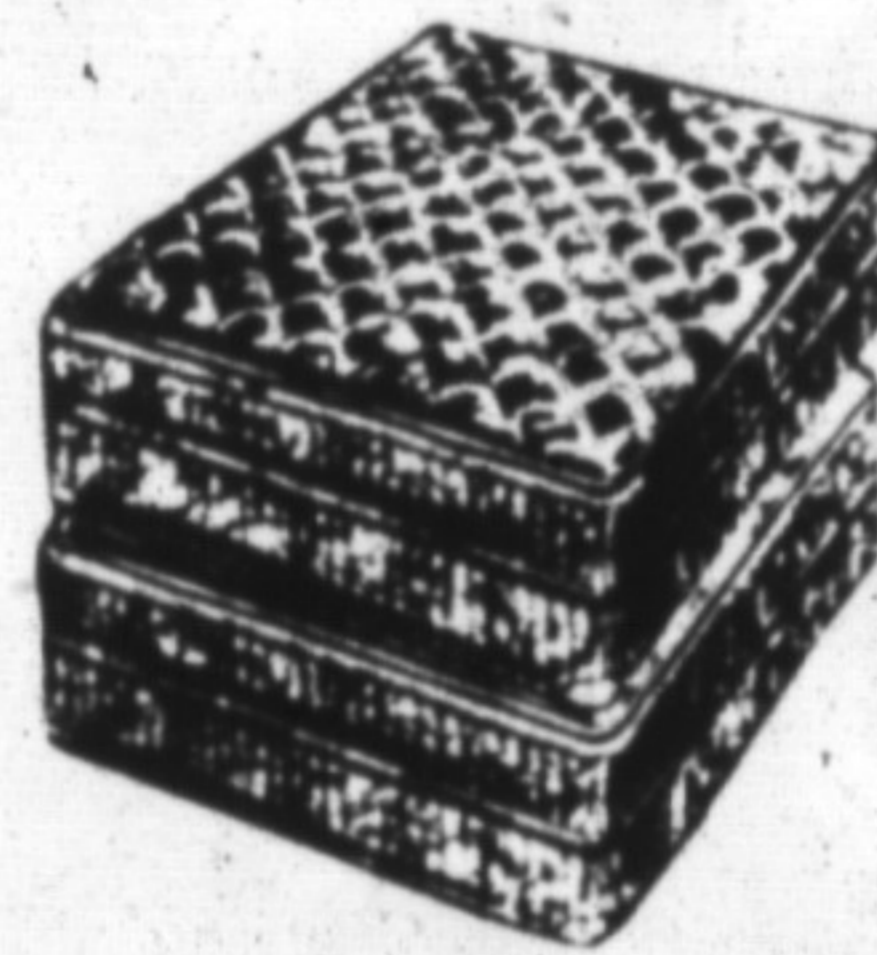

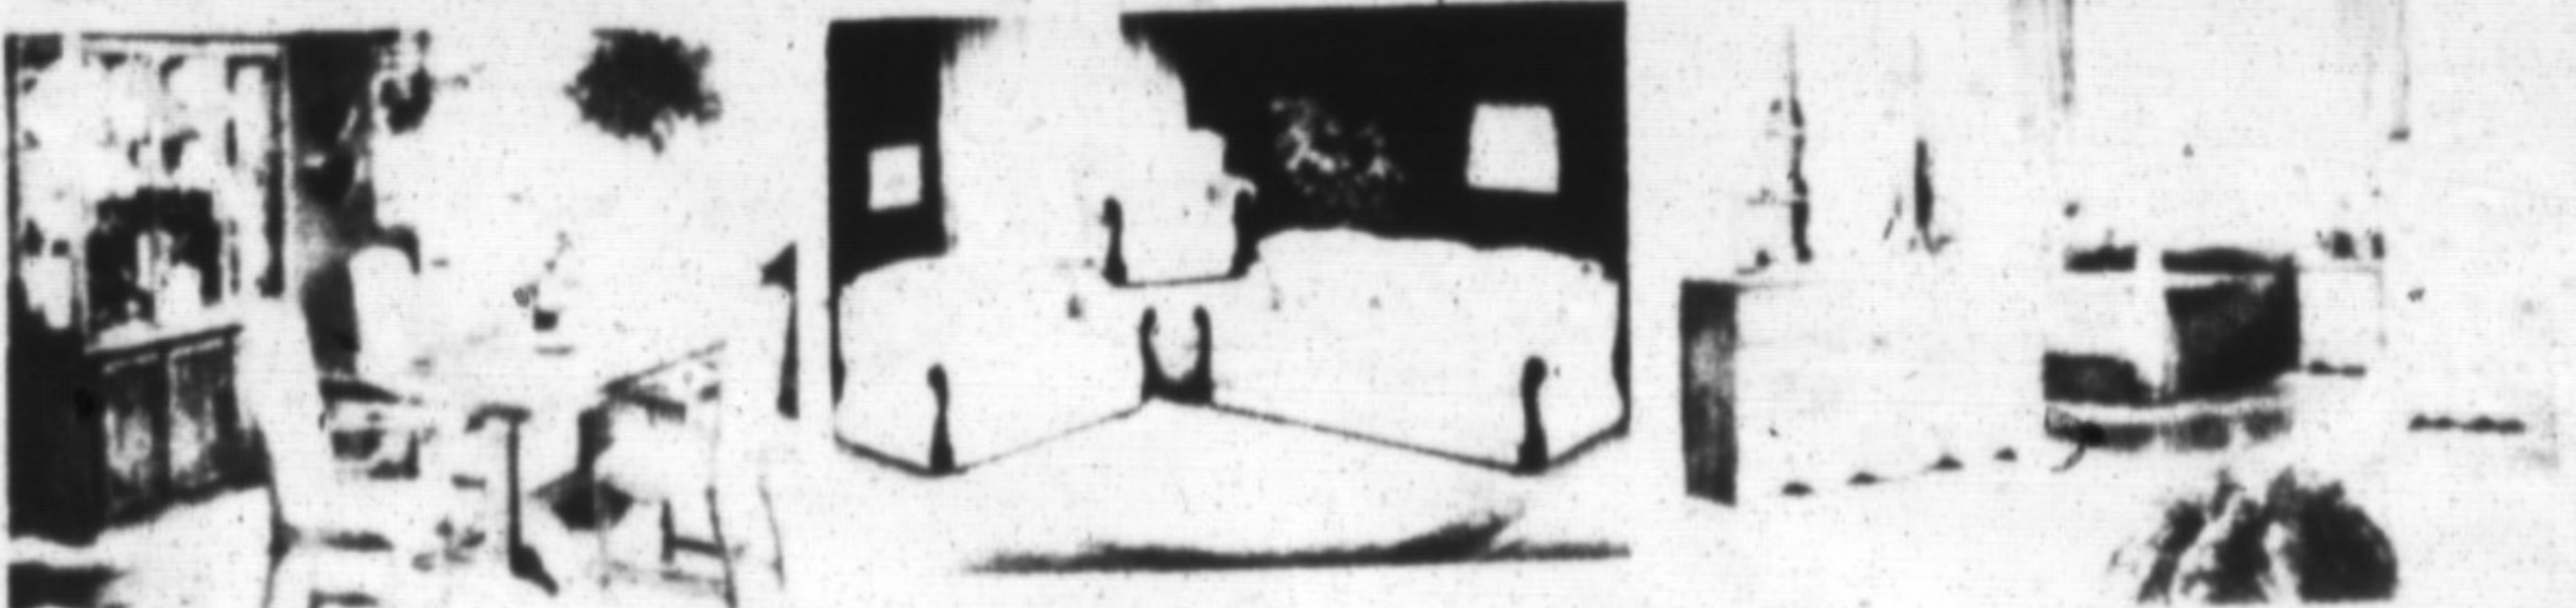

Special attention will also be paid to commercial motor vehicle violators which generate many public complaints.

"Commencing Monday September 11, the eight officer traffic squad will saturate the Niagara Peninsula most notably the QEW from Stoney Creek to Niagara Falls," said Staff Sergeant Randy McLeod of the traffic and marine unit at Burlington.

During the past week members of the Milton OPP charged five persons with drinking and driving offences and issued four 12 hour suspensions.

Two people were charged with liquor violations. RIDE programs stopped 289 vehicles but no one was charged.
