Cloggin' along

A form of dance similar to tap, called "clogging" is being offered for the first time at Milton Senior Citizen's Centre. Several participants have already joined but more are needed to ensure the program keeps clogging along. Classes are offered Thursday mornings from 10 to noon.

Plowmen to strut their stuff

The Halton Plowmen's Association is inviting the public to attend the 1989 Halton Plowing Match on Saturday Oct. 7 at the farmland leased by Fred Anthony on Trafalgar Road, north of Derry Road.

Plowing matches have been around since 1886 in Halton when the townships of Esquesing and Nassagaweya townships battled each other at the farm of Alexander Brown in Acton.

At the end of the century the sport died down but in 1925 the Plowmen's Association was once again open for business. It reached its highest point of fame when in 1974 the local association hosted the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Show.

For information, call the local Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office at 878-2314.
