DREAM WEAVERS

Say it isn't so!

Elmer was reading the weekend paper in the serenity of his new backyard when his eye caught a disturbing headline:

"Proposed Traffic Artery to Ease Congestion."

The location? Just beyond Elmer's backyard fence!

You see, Elmer purchased his new home privately. There was no mention of road plans, only talk of the property's privacy.

Now, had Elmer worked with one of the 700-plus sales representatives registered with the Oakville, Milton and District Real Estate Board he would have known about the road. And much more. Far beyond property values, your area real estate professional can tell you about our town's past, present and future.

Before signing on the dotted line, consider a detailed tour of the neighborhood of your choice. Contact an informed member of the Oakville, Milton and District Real Estate Board.

They're specialists in delivering dreams - not nightmares.
