Christmas lights brightening Omagh

Christmas lights are making their appearance in this area.

Compliments to Mr. and Mrs. J. Ford of Fifth Line for their display. A ladder of lights decorate the side of their 60-foot silo with a shining star at the top.

The display is different and most attractive.

A home on Britannia Road which has been beautifully decorated with Christmas lights is owned by Mr. and Mrs. A Barbic.

Congratulations to George Bird of Ashgrove.

He was named Farmer of the Year in Halton County at a banquet and dance held in the Acton Royal Canadian Legion hall Nov. 25.

The awards night for Halton 4H Homemaking Clubs was held at Brookville Hall Nov. 27 with eight clubs participating in two projects — good foods fast and social recreation.

Gwen Brander received her five-year leader certificate while Sandi Brander was recognized for finishing 24 projects. Eric Lawlor of O.M.A.F. was in charge of the program.

The Saturday night euchre held at Boyne Community Centre had 13 tables of players and the following winners: Evelyn Wilkie, Charlotte Greenlees, Margaret Croynor, Vivian Shaw, Manuel Medeiros, R. Featherstone, G. Fisher, A. Ford. Lone hands

Omagh
with ELLA PATTERSON

were held by Christina Bailey and Clara Auckland.

Happy birthday wishes are extended to Graham Patterson who will be five years old Dec. 6.

Friends will be pleased to learn that Bill Proud, now of Listowel, is doing well in Hamilton's McMaster Hospital.

□□□

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Patterson and family attended an open house and birthday party in St. Thomas Saturday for Mrs. Patterson's father Ernest Nooke who celebrated his 80th birthday.

Mr. Nooke is a member of the local Antique and Steam Association.

Derry Road and Fourth Line has been the scene of many fatal accidents in the past months.

To alert motorists, double stop signs have been installed at the intersection.

For some reason, one sign was sawed off and taken away last Wednesday sometime around midnight. It has since been replaced by the town's works department.
