

Phyllis Diller coming to Norval club

Phyllis Diller will return to her roots on the stage with a live performance at Club 2000 this Sunday.

A star of television, movies and stage, Ms Diller's career debut was at age 37 when she was booked at San Francisco's Purple Onion for two weeks and stayed for 89. This was followed by a tour and then her big break on the Jack Paar Show.

The audience at Club 2000 on July 8 will hear mostly original material as she usually does her own writing. She edits her routine so tightly that she can deliver up to 12 punchlines a minute. Ms Diller shies away from off-colour jokes and situations.

Although her success has been largely based on film and television appearances, she's fond of live performances. The performer has played to packed houses at major supper clubs including Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas and the Waldorf Astoria in Manhattan. She's also made her mark internationally with frequent appearances in England and Australia.

The mother of five children, Ms Diller is a different person than the one she portrays on stage. She's a fine cook, well groomed and a devoted mother — a far cry from the harried woman she convincingly portrays.

Club 2000 is located on Highway 7 at Winston Churchill Blvd. in Norval. Ticket prices range from $15 to $19.50. For information call 873-0437.

TRAFALGAR CASTLE SCHOOL (Founded 1874)

WHERE EACH GIRL IS AN INDIVIDUAL

Trafalgar Castle School is committed to the idea of the all female school in a predominantly co-educational world. Girls thrive in such an environment.

Currently undergoing an expansion programme, Trafalgar Castle limits its enrolment to 200 in order to meet more satisfactorily the individual needs of each student. Classes are kept small. Mixing traditional values with up-to-date programmes and facilities, Trafalgar Castle offers its students vigorous academic courses and wide ranging extra-curricular activities in an historic atmosphere. For more than a century our school has been sending forth young women to take their places in universities, in the work place and in society. We intend to maintain that record in the century ahead.

BECOME A PART OF THIS TRADITION

Trafalgar Castle is in a unique position to serve our residential students. Situated outside the congestion and turmoil of Toronto, we can reach the cultural attractions of that great city quickly by public and private transportation. In this sense we have the best of both worlds.

We are now accepting applications for both day and residential students for September, 1990, grades 7-13.
