

Tee up for hospital

It's time to tee up for Milton District Hospital with the opening of registration for the ninth annual Canadian Champion Charity Golf Tournament.

This major fundraiser has contributed more than $16,000 to the hospital and this year organizers are banking on another financial success. The event is set for Wednesday, Sept. 12 at Wyldewood Golf and Country Club with a shotgun start at noon.

The tournament will feature the popular scramble format that ensures golfers of all levels have an enjoyable round.

Each foursome member shoots from the best ball location. There are prizes for a hole in one, closest to the pin and longest drive. A putting contest and betting hole are other tournament highlights.

The $125 entry fee includes a tax deductible donation to the hospital foundation. In addition to supporting a worthy charity, all golfers will take home a prize.

Molsons and Coors Light will be co-sponsoring the event with The Champion.

The entry deadline is Wednesday, Sept. 5. Entry forms have been sent to last year's participants and more are available at The Champion office, 191 Main St. Entry fee must accompany completed registration forms. Wyldewood is located at 6198 Trafalgar Rd., Milton. Golfers who want carts for the day must make their own arrangements by contacting Wyldewood at 878-4848.

Ag minister to speak at Masonic Hall

Area residents with concerns about the state of agriculture in Halton and Ontario will get an opportunity to speak with Ontario's agriculture minister Tuesday night.

David Ramsay will be the guest at a public meeting hosted by the Halton Centre Liberal Association and MPP Barbara Sullivan Tuesday night at the Masonic Hall, beginning at 8 p.m.

The Masonic Hall is located between Derry and Britannia Road on Highway 25.

"It's an information night open to everyone," said organizer Evelyn Gillies.

They promised a rose garden

Members of the Milton and District Horticultural Society promised the Town a rose garden and they delivered.

If you look to your right just before entering Town Hall, you will see a garden full of roses as well as shrubs and 500 perennials and annuals.

Approximately a dozen volunteers from the Horticultural Society worked for countless hours planting the vegetation, said Marion Detlor, the organization's past president.

"It is still a young garden, and yet it has already started to bloom into a real feature of the Town Hall complex," she added.

Local Horticultural Society members donated more than their time.

The organization purchased four benches which overlook the garden. The Town paid the cost of the plants.
