

Fun and friendship is the bottom line for 79ers

 tournament by defeating the Ontario Selects 9-3 in the final.

The 79ers lost in the semifinals in Ottawa to the Toronto Metros, 5-2. According to Haydar the tournament is one of the top ranked in the country and the Toronto team is made up of all the best players from the Metro Toronto Hockey League (MTHL), the largest minor hockey organization in the world. Toronto players are also recruited from St. Catharines, London and Boston, Massachusetts. In the Ottawa tournament Milton lost its first game ever 4-3 to Lac St. Louis (Montreal). They went through the tournament with a 4-1 record to qualify for the playoffs. Along the way they beat the Ottawa 67s 1-0 and the St. Lawrence Islanders 5-4.

Milton bounced back to win a tournament in Peterborough on the weekend by beating Central Ontario 4-0 in the final. The first game of that tournament pitted Milton against the Toronto Red Wings, according to Haydar one of the best club teams in Ontario: Five Red Wings also played for the Toronto Metros. Milton won the contest 3-2 in, what was for them, the highlight of the tournament.

"The experience, fun and friendships that were developed over the three months were just fantastic," Haydar said.

"Our team was well received and well respected in all the tournaments we entered. The compliments about our boys and our system were very satisfying."

Vanderhoek, Dowell advance to Montreal

Kim Vanderhoek was the top finisher among three Milton athletes who competed in the recent Ontario Juvenile and Senior Track and Field Championships at Etobicoke Centennial Park.

Vanderhoek, 20, launched herself over the high jump bar at 1.70 metres to collect the bronze in the senior women's event. She also managed a personal best 5.77 metre leap in the long jump for fourth place and a 100 metre hurdles mark of 15.62 seconds for another personal best and 11th place. Vanderhoek tossed the javelin 36.14 metres, good enough for seventh place.

Mark Dowell, 16, managed a fourth in the juvenile boys javelin with a heave of 41.34 metres. The toss was a new personal best by five metres over his old mark.

Dowell's brother Doug, 21, finished ninth in the senior men's high jump with a leap of 1.95 metres.

The three Milton athletes compete under the banner of the Athletics International Track and Field Club. Members practice at workout sites at McMaster University.

Their next meet is an intra-club event this weekend at York University.
