Mom uses harnesses for kids' safety

Dear Abby:
 Will you please do me a big favor and print the following message in your column.
 "If you see someone in a shopping mall — or on the street — and this person has a child on the other end of a leash, please keep your mouth shut!"
 I am the mother of two very active boys. They are 13 months apart; the oldest is 4 1/2. I have nobody to leave them with, so when I go shopping, I take them with me, and yes, I put them in harnesses for their own disappointed if we don't include her. How should this be handled? Please answer soon.

MRS. JONES

Dear Mrs. Jones:
 It would be improper to include your daughter — or to write "3" on your response card, since only you and your husband were invited.
 And I wish response cards would not ask the number of people attending. It is often mistaken for an invitation to include children or others who were not expressly invited.
Bottom line: Only those whose names are on the envelope are invited, so do not put anyone on the spot by phoning to ask, "Are the children included?"

safety and my peace of mind.
 Every time I take the kids out in public with their harnesses on, I get dirty looks and nasty comments from strangers who say, "Those ain't dogs, lady — they's children!" Maybe if you put this in your column, people will realize that I keep my kids on a leash because I love them — not because I'm mean.
A LOVING MOM

Dear Mom:
 Here's your letter. Don't worry about dirty looks or nasty comments. I wonder how many people reading this wish they had had their kiddies on a leash when they broke away from them and ran into the street in the middle of traffic.
Dear Abby:

I am going crazy trying to figure something out. Is it possible to have an aunt who is younger than you are? And if it is possible, please explain how it can be. Thank you.
GOING CRAZY

We just received an invitation to the wedding of a friend's daughter. It was addressed to "Tom and Mary Jones." Included was a response card to fill in: "Number of People Attending?"
 Would it be proper to write in "3" to include our grown daughter who lives at home part-time due to a job situation? I think she will be very

Dear Crazy:
 It's possible and here's how:
 An aunt is the sister of your mother or father. Right? Let us say that when you were 5 years old, your father's mother (who is your grandmother) gave birth to a baby girl whom she named "Paula." Well, because Paula is your father's sister, even though she is five years younger than you, she is your aunt.
 Got it?
