PRO DRIVING TIPS

NUMBER 7 DEFENSIVE DRIVING

Cedric Hartley, Mississauga, of GTL Transport (1989) Inc., has driven 4.8 million km and has 29 years of accident-free driving.

Driving to avoid accidents in spite of the actions of less careful drivers is defensive driving. It is a skill I and my fellow professional truck drivers use every day and many of us drive over 150,000 kilometres a year.

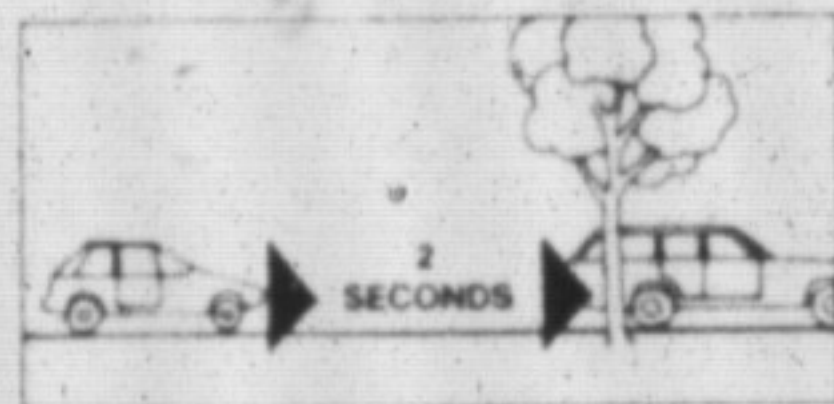

Anticipation is one of the most important qualities in a professional driver.

Anticipate trouble ahead. Assume the worst conditions and make allowances for every possible error. Keep your distance from the vehicle in front by using the two second rule. When you see the car ahead approach a check-point, like a road sign or hydro pole, count for two seconds. That's how long it should take you to reach the same pole.

In poor weather conditions like rain, fog, sleet or snow, increase the distance between you and the vehicle ahead.

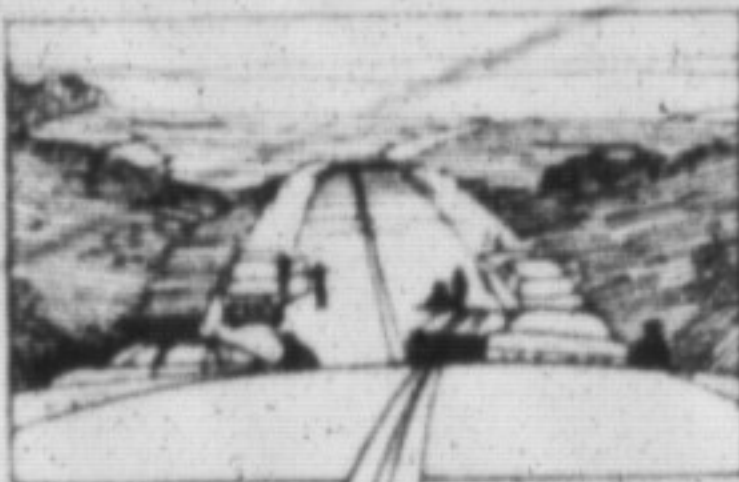

Make sure drivers can see you, particularly at intersections. Don't hesitate to use your horn or headlights to establish contact.

Use your headlights night and day

The second rule

Make sure your tires and windshield wipers are in good condition and your car has regular mechanical check ups. A simple rule I use is: always "drive accordingly".

Anticipate trouble ahead
