CRAIG BOWEN

Message from the Village Constable

Constable Craig Bowen is our new Village Constable. Welcome to the position! Constable Bowen is a 17 year veteran of the Halton Region Police force and he wants to make the Downtown his home for the next few years. He already sees some problem areas that he wants to clean up with the help of the community.

Robbery Prevention seminars, speaking engagements at local schools plus solving the loitering problem outside area businesses should keep the new Village Constable busy for the next several months.

Please make Constable Bowen feel a part of the Downtown family by saying hello when he drops in for a visit!

GRAND OPENING OF H & H CERAMIC STUDIO!!

Saturday January 18
 1-4 pm
 212 Main St.
 Rear Entrance of Jeanettes Shoes (off Mary Street)

H&H Ceramic Studio owner, Shirley Hall, says the H & H stands for healthy and happy, which is what you will be if you drop in to say hello!! Shirley is a life long resident of Milton and is no stranger to Downtown, in fact her dad was a butcher across the street and she located her business in the store where she played as a child.

Shirley says H&H is a hobby that grew and grew until she needed extra space hence the move to Main Street. she is a certified ceramics teacher and dealer with the certificates to prove it! Her students couldn't say enough wonderful things about her ability or her positive outlook on life.

Ceramics classes are held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7-9 pm and cost $3 per class (plus costs) in Shirley's words "You pay as you play!" Her studio is filled with greenware of every description from simple to very intricate along with paints and other supplies. Friday evenings will usher in a porcelain seminar as well. Workshops are available during the day for individual creative time. Everyone is welcome from children to seniors, men and women to boys and girls. H&H is located Downtown because of the abundant parking in the Mary Street parking lot; a well lit entrance to ensure safety during the evening hours and easy access for everyone. Welcome to Downtown and all your neighbours wish you every success.
