

Make a smart move: Choose a professional home builder

If you are like most Canadians, you dream about owning your own home — a home like the one you grew up in. But the key to getting the home of your dreams is your builder, according to the Toronto Home Builders' Association (THBA).

Once you have decided on the community, the house design and the price range that is right for you, the next important step is to choose your builder. When you buy from a professional builder, you are assured of getting the most value for your money.

Your house will be built to modern-day standards of comfort, function and safety. A professional builder is up-to-date with the latest innovations, designs and technology.

Professional builders provide high-quality homes in a wide selection of floor plans, housing designs and price ranges.

Your housing questions will be answered. A professional builder can provide you with information on everything from financing to environmentally-friendly options for your new home.

Professional builders provide service with integrity before, during and after the construction and sale of your new home.

How do you find a professional home builder?

When looking for a professional home builder, your first stop should be the Toronto Home Builders' Association. The THBA provides basic information about member builders, as well as a free set of Insights, 11 informative brochures designed to guide you through the homebuying process, from learning about a community to signing the contract and after-sales service.

Ask prospective builders about their previous communities, housing projects and clients. Talk to homeowners who purchased homes from each builder on your list and ask questions — questions about the quality of the homes, the community, and the builder's service before, during and after construction. Inspect other houses constructed by each builder and determine for yourself their quality, workmanship and overall appearance.

Above all, take your time. Buying a new home is an important decision. You don't want to rush into a purchase that you might eventually regret. Doing some research beforehand will enable you to buy with confidence, secure in the knowledge that you are getting the most for your money from the best in the field.

Call the Toronto Home Builders' Association Housing Information Hotline — 391-HOME — for more information on buying a new home.
