Omagh says goodbye to long-time residents

A life-long resident of the Omagh area, Ruth Brownridge died Thursday following a prolonged illness.

She was born Ruth McCann and was predeceased by sister Ellen Anderson and brothers Cecil, Homer and Howard McCann.

Wife of the late Robert Brownridge, she attended the former Omagh school, Milton High School and teachers' college.

Her career was spent in Omagh and Mrs. Brownridge taught at Percy W. Merry among others schools. She was a kind and loving person to all students.

Mrs. Brownridge was also a member of Omagh Presbyterian Church where for many years she was an organist, choir leader, and Sunday School teacher.

After retiring from teaching, she assisted her husband Bob on the mail route of R.R. No. 4 and there were very few days they missed. Her husband passed away several years ago.
