

Mustang basketball teams finish up-and-down season

The Milton District High School senior boys basketball team ended their season last week with a loss to the Georgetown Rebels 47-44.

"We played well but missed key shots," said coach Bryan Camani. "They were a fine bunch of kids to have coached."

The team had one of its most successful seasons, finishing with a 9-2 record on the regular season.

The Mustang juniors continued their winning ways by easily defeating St. Thomas Aquinas (Oakville) 44-29. Coaches attributed the win to a building of momentum from a good start.

Jeff McKenzie led the way with his three point shooting while Jason Swarbrick and Shawn Faulknor controlled significant portions of the floor.

In midget action what looked to be an easy victory turned into a one-point loss. The midgets' aggressive style of play was absent from this game, as turnovers appeared to be the key. Good efforts were given by Rob Hans who led the Milton side with 20 points. Shane Ridley and brother Jeremy also contributed to the total.

The week proved a nice rebound after the previous week's dark day for Milton District when all three teams lost to the Oakville Trafalgar Red Devils.

In the senior game the Mustangs ran into a hot team and lost 61-56. Cory Howitt led the way with 26 points and Garry Hans chipped in with 19 for Milton District. Dave Gaul, Jon Budworth and Mark Dowell all played solid games.

The juniors continued to show improvement with their pressure defence and high-tempo game. They lost to OT 63-54 but showed a high level of composure.

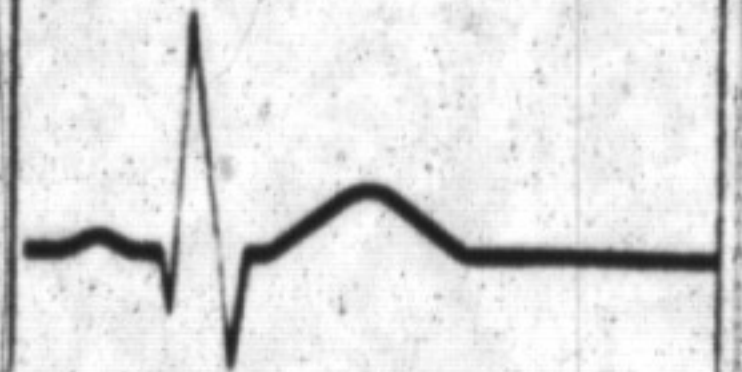

Guard Jeff McKenzie led his team with 19 points while Todd Dowell knocked down 14. Injuries kept the juniors from putting their best team on the floor.

In midget action, missed foul shots proved to be the problem in their 50-47 loss. Camani, who also coaches the midgets, shook his head over a bad call. "The ball hit the back of the backboard and O.T. rebounded and scored. The missed call played a big part in our loss," Camani said.

The leading scorer for the midgets was Loren Padelford with 14 points. Rob Hans chipped in 12.
