

Cats' bodies found in abandoned house

Seven wild cats were found dead in an abandoned house in Campbellville last week. A photography student discovered the animals inside the vacant building located near No. 5 Sideroad and Second Line, said Halton police. A spokesperson from the Oakville Humane Society said the poor condition of the cats' bodies made it difficult to determine how and when the animals perished. Linda Dent, supervisor of investigations and animal control for the shelter, speculated the cats, which have access into and out of the house, may have died from disease.

Snow a factor in crash

Sunday's snowstorm is being blamed for a three-vehicle accident on Trafalgar Road which sent four people to hospital.

At about 11:10 a.m., an Orangeville driver travelling southbound lost control of his vehicle, hit a northbound car and went into a ditch, Halton police said. A third car travelling behind the northbound vehicle also collided with the second car. Drivers of the two northbound vehicles were from Oakville. Four people were taken to Milton District and Credit Valley hospitals. No charges were laid.
