Talking him down

Firefighters were called to 198 Main Street East last week when it was noticed that a large piece of metal fascia was pulling off near the roof, above the Audrey Meredith Dance Studio. A brave firefighter was coaxed into manning the cherry picker bucket to investigate. Upon reaching roof level he came face to face with a giant squirrel. The squirrel hissed a number of times but left peacefully when the firefighter produced a huge Brazil nut that had slipped between the roofing and the eaves. The firefighter in question has been nominated to The Order of Canada.
