

Prizes, food make fun euchre night

The Halton Plowmen's Association held its annual euchre party at Boyne Community Centre March 24.

President Wm. Raynor and his helpers welcomed the almost capacity attendance of 28 tables of players.

Good prizes and a hearty lunch made for an enjoyable evening.

During the morning worship service at Omagh Presbyterian Church Sunday, Mar. 29, Rev. Shawn Croll dedicated the recently refurbished entrance to the church in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall who, for more than 50 years, were faithful members and workers in the church. This gift was given by the Colin Marshall family.

The community was greatly shocked to learn that Marlene Pell passed away suddenly Friday from a heart attack at her home on First Line.

She is survived by her husband Robert and children Becky and Chris, also her mother Eva Joubert of Burlington and sisters.

We extend sincere sympathy to all who mourn the death of this young wife and mother.

Good will

The Milton Heights Moritessori School recently collected clothing and other baby items for Birthright, an organization which provides support and counselling for pregnant women. The items will be used by needy Birthright clients. Here, students Almee Keane and Paul Sharples hand over the clothing, baby formula, and books to Jan Platts of Birthright.
