

Players needed in MFFL as team again plays short

see REMAX on page 15
 tossed six touchdown passes, two to Werner Mikolet and Dana Briscoe, and one each to Keith Sommerville and Jamie Goodings. The younger Goodings also kicked four extra points in a winning cause.

The fact that some teams are short players indicated that more players are needed. Anyone interested in playing this year is invited to call John Comber at 878-4955.

Gunners win pair

The Milton Gunners added a pair of wins to their season record last week, beating the Georgetown Blazers 4-3 on Wednesday and then knocking off Iere B 3-0.

Milton went on the attack right from the start but were unable to score. As they pressed their offence the Blazers counter-attack beat the Gunners offside trap on the right side. The shot hit the crossbar and the rebound was tapped home.

Milton immediately redoubled their attack. Torry Ewan was pulled down while trying to break through the middle. The play resulted in the Georgetown player being sent off. With the extra attacker Milton tied the game on a hard shot by Chad Burton.

The game stayed tied until Georgetown again beat the offside trap and scored by lifting the ball over the Milton goalkeeper. This awakened Milton and they scored two quick goals, one by Shawn Hassfeldt and the other by Burton.

The Gunners pressed for an insurance goal and got one from Burton, with his third of the night. The Blazers refused to concede and scored again with seven minutes left to make it 4-3 but were unable to equalize.

On Thursday the Gunners Toronto and District League team took on Iere B and won decisively 3-0. The game seesawed back and forth with neither team able to get an early goal. The first half was scoreless.

In the second frame Milton pressed and opened the scoring with a goal by John Davies. Gaining the lead the Gunners began to play with more confidence and they opened up their offence. Davies again took advantage of the team's efforts and knocked home goal number two. Kevin Griffin added the back breaking goal in the 3-0 game. Kevin Davies collected his first shutout of the year.

WHAT'S THE COST OF A CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONING SYSTEM THAT'S INCREDIBLY DEPENDABLE?

Example: To install a top-of-the-line Heil 1 1/2 ton system in a 1400 square foot house of reasonably conventional shape, you'll pay a Heil Authorized Dealer about $1900.

About half that cost is equipment — the compressor, cooling coil, connections, tubing and so on.

The other half is the time and skill of the licensed mechanics who perform the installation.

To get a system that operates quietly to cool and dehumidify your house evenly throughout and do so dependably for many, many seasons, you have to have both — the right equipment for your house, and expert installation.

WHAT'S THE COST OF ONE THAT'S NOT DEPENDABLE?

There are fly-by-nighters who advertise air conditioning at prices more than 30% less than a Heil Authorized Dealer will quote. They may even offer name brand equipment. How can they "save" so much?

There's no free lunch.

In competitive times a reputable dealer may trim his price to make a sale, but, given reasonable equality of equipment, there is only one way the price of an air conditioning system can be reduced as much as 30%:

— by cutting corners on installation

Anyone with a handyman's skills and a toolbox can install air conditioning, but it takes a qualified air conditioning mechanic to do it right.

Fly-by-nighters cut costs by using moonlighters who work in their spare time at cut rates. There is no way you can know whether or not these people are qualified for the work they're doing.

You'll pay for this "saving" with trouble.

Poorly installed systems break down, always in the hottest part of the season, because that's when mechanical stress is greatest.

Fly-by-nighters are frequent flyers. Operators who sell on low price come and go by the dozen every season. Don't look for after sales service on your cheap system.

Also don't look for much help from a "warranty." The equipment used by the fly-by-nighter may be warranted by a manufacturer, but the manufacturer can't warrant the workmanship of unqualified people. That's the reason for "authorized" dealers. If your system develops problems, you may be able to get parts replaced, but you'll be on your own for labour.

And, if you order Heil during June, you'll get the snack plus free dessert.

If you place an order for dependable Heil air conditioning, the authorized dealer listed below, before the close of business June 30, 1992, you'll receive your $100, plus a free 5 year parts and labour warranty — and that warranty is backed by Canada's largest manufacturer of heating and cooling equipment.

Conditions

1. To receive your $100, you needn't buy Heil, but you must purchase some brand of air conditioning and have it installed by July 15, 1992.
2. The air conditioning you buy must compare in capacity and features to the system quoted by your Heil dealer.
3. Only one $100 allowed per homeowner.
