The intention of this weekly golf tip series is to impart to you my best advice on how to play to your golfing potential, given whatever restrictions you place on yourself in terms of time and energy.

We will address a different component of the game each week. The understanding is that golf is a game of subtleties and personal idio-syncracies. Although I can give you general direction, your very best bet to improve your game would be individual golf lessons from a qualified instructor of the Canadian Professional Golfers Association.

As I mentioned in an earlier column, the ultimate challenge of golf is how you control your conscious thoughts. Let's build a game from the foundation up, based on consistency of routine and method, which will breed familiarity and ultimately, confidence.

The first component of your game is putting. My suggestion is to stop whatever you are doing with respect to golf and take one day to resolve your putting form, technique and equipment, once and for all. Make a lifetime commitment and stick to it!

Breakthroughs in putter technology have been exhausted within the rules of the game. What else can you do? You have to hold a putter in your hands and a flat edge is required to meet the ball. Pick a putter that appeals to you and stick with it.

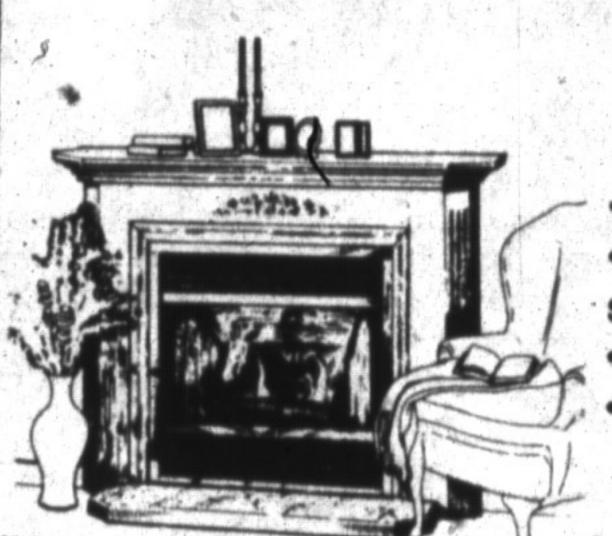

Four things to be considered:

1) Lie; 2) Length; 3) Weight; 4)
Striking position.

Different putter types are designed for hands ahead, even, or behind the ball.

U-Brew stampedes to victory

This past weekend the Milton U-Brew slo-pitch team travelled to Guelph and won the Stampede Ranch Slo-pitch Tournament.

Milton won five straight games on Sunday, defeating 'To A.T.' from Guelph, twice in a row to take the championship in the double-knock-out tournament.

Contributing to the win was a very solid pitching performance by Mike Churchill and a strong defensive effort by the entire team.

Milton U-Brew overcame a 6-1 deficit in their quarterfinal game to defeat 'F and A' 9-8. That victory allowed Milton to move into the semi-finals, where they downed 'Gringos' by a score of 12-8.

Milton then won their consecutive game in the final to claim the title, 10-8 and 12-9.

never gave up and showed determination in their comeback attempt.

Jeans had a pair of doubles, Konkle knocked a double and Murray had a triple.

In their third game of the tournament Milton won 12-11 behind five runs in the third and a rally killing home-to-first double play.

Matthew DeRee doubled home a run, Murray followed his example,

Jeans doubled, Konkle, Jodie St.
John and Dillon Hardy both had run scoring singles.

The top team in each of four divisions advanced to the second round. Milton's 2-1 record was not enough. In regular season play the Milton squad sports a 3-7-1 record, and is hoping for their tournament play to inspire them into a playoff spot.
