MILL POND RESTORATION

The Mill Pond was the central focus of Milton's beginnings and remains one of our community's greatest assets. During the celebration of Canada's 125th birthday, it does indeed seem fitting that the restoration of the Mill Pond was begun.

The Mill Pond Steering Committee, comprised of interested citizens and interest groups, is responsible for establishing and prioritizing improvements to be made to the parklands, park entrances, trails and other areas around the Mill Pond. These improvements were identified by the Dillon study and by Wendy Shearer Landscape Architects.

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs allocated PRIDE funding in the amount of $300,000 matched by the Town to improve the lands around the Mill Pond. During 1992, 1993 and 1994 equal portions of $200,000 must be spent on projects improving the area adjacent to the pond.

The Ministry of Natural Resources and the Halton Region Conservation Authority are involved in a study looking into water purity, flow and fish habitat affecting the Mill Pond. When it has been completed, improvements to the pond itself can be identified and action taken.

The areas that will receive attention during the 1992 project year include improvements to the parks surrounding the Mill Pond (Centennial Park, Livingston Park and Rotary Park). The entrances, floral plantings, walkways and access to the pond for recreational pursuits will be upgraded.

The Town of Milton and all the Steering Committee members want the Mill Pond to be given its rightful place in the heart of our community and will continue to work toward that end. Milton is one of the few town which has such a beautiful, natural jewel adjacent to its Downtown core and as residents, we must preserve it for future generations.

YOUR HAIR IS YOUR IMAGE

Surround yourself with serenity in an atmosphere which is designed to cater to you. At Hair Associates, we call ourselves image consultants in hair, as we believe fashion in hair is how you feel... not what is dictated. Consideration must be given to factors such as likes and dislikes, lifestyle, time and capability. The term consultants suggests how we operate. Communication is the key to a successful result. Ralph Johnston, owner of Hair Associates, is a major competition winner throughout North America and Europe and a platform artist. He was trained in Canada and has studied design in America, France, Austria and England. He is currently vice-president of The Canadian Guild of Hair Design.
