

Your Corporate Travel Specialists

Corporate travel service forms a major part of our office and Sue Davis is the person in charge of this department. Other agents in the office also handle business travel accounts but for Sue it is her daily diet to deal with corporations with many travellers or the individual businessperson who comes into Sue's business travel corner to plan their travels.

An endorsement of Sue's dedication to her clients is the many who when moving to new companies, will continue to come back to Sue for her personal, conscientious attention.

AIR CANADA and CANADIAN AIRLINES MERGE! Who knows what the fallout will be, it's a long way off, but it was obvious something had to happen to stop the bleeding by both carriers. It's a long process which will have to meet the needs of the Federal Competitions Bureau. Wonder how much our government will intervene on behalf of the travelling public, in other words, the voters. Perhaps re-regulation will have to take its place! . . .

BUSINESS TRAVELLERS should be sure to put their home number on the file when they book flights which are leaving on a Monday morning. There are many schedule changes which come about in the fall and the carriers will call with the change, but in many cases, only have the business number and can't make contact on the weekend or after hours . . .

COMPANIES WE ARE ASSOCIATED WITH – Market Access Corporation; Self Management Resources Corporation and Industrial Lighting Services are for the purpose of helping serve you better. Information on the services they provide to us and you, will be forwarded to many of you in the near future. We continue to grow . . .

OUR LATEST PROJECT – we are conducting a survey of several clients to doublecheck our services and marketing, and to see how we can serve you better. If you have been contacted, thanks for taking the time to fill out the survey. For your information, our codes are to determine vacation, corporate or cruise clients participating . . .

WE BRING THE WORLD TO YOU! Actually right to your doorstep – our delivery service is second to none, whether a block away or halfway around the world. We'll deliver your tickets when and where you want them, or if you want to receive a brochure to get your plans rolling, let us know . . .

PEARSON INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT is still Canada's busiest with some 322,258 flights in 1991, down from previous years for the first time. Still a lot, especially when it seems they are all leaving at the same time some days! Major growth of air traffic is in the Pacific-Asia area with 10% expected and that's 3% ahead of the rest-of-world travel . . .

Managing the office and keeping all the computers and accounting in order is a big job handled by Ruth Burnett. Many times when you phone or come into our office it will be Ruth who greets you first as she assists in getting your needs attended to, and things to flow smoothly in our busy office environment.

Your cruise experts, your business travel specialists, your vacation planning headquarters – we offer it all by having individuals trained in the various areas – that's why we are successful – we continue to train our people, and upgrade our quality service!
