One price for four dates with Choristers

The Milton Choristers have a deal for you. Save on the community choir's upcoming four-concert series by purchasing a subscription.

A series subscription costs $30 for adults and $24 for seniors and students. That's a 15 per cent discount off individual concert tickets plus a free family Christmas concert.

The 45 members of the Milton Choristers are already tuning up for what promises to be a highlight of the season.

Under the direction of Patricia Phillips, the choir will perform Handel's Messiah with a 14-piece orchestra. The concert is slated for November 29, the first Sunday of Advent, at Holy Rosary Church.

With the addition of four talented soloists, the Choristers are looking forward to their first outing with an orchestra.

If it's a family outing you're looking for, the Milton Choristers return by popular demand with lighter fare December 13 at Knox Presbyterian Church. The program features carols, old and new.

Next in the series is Fantastic Faure featuring the romantic music of Gabriel Faure and Anton Bruckner March 28 at St. Paul's United Church. The highlight of the performance is Faure's Requiem with a selection of seasonal motets by Bruckner.

And then the Choristers change their musical hats to perform a pub night at the Bayrischer-Hof Restaurant May 28.

For a brochure on the subscription series, write Milton Choristers, P.O. Box 405, Milton, Ont., L9T 4Y9, or call Betty Ann Wolder at 875-4489.

'Yes' office opens for Halton-Peel

Ross Carlin, founder of the O Canada Foundation, has been named chairman of the Yes To Canada committee in the riding of Halton-Peel. The riding includes the west and north area of rural Milton, most of north Burlington, Halton Hills and Caledon.

A Yes To Canada committee has been formed in the riding to encourage residents of Burlington, Halton Hills, Caledon and the surrounding area to learn about the constitutional proposals and to support them with a Yes vote in the national referendum on October 26.

Committee co-ordinator is Bob Malcolmson, former publisher of the Halton Hills Herald. The committee opened quarters in the former offices of The Herald in Georgetown last Saturday.
