Blithe Spirit

MDHS actors take on comedy

Milton District High School presents 1930s comedy Blithe Spirit Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

The Noel Coward play includes seven cast members, mostly made up of senior students. Fifteen students are involved in the play overall. Directed by MDHS teachers Laurie Graham and Katherine Cooke, Blithe Spirit centres around the life of Charles, whose dead first wife comes back to haunt him.

Charles is played by Brent Heatherington. Shanna Holloway is Ruth, Brent's living wife, and Amy Thomson plays the ghost of Elvira, his former wife.

Madam Arcati, the spiritual medium, is played by Sarah Sabatino. Students Amie Kiddle, Cheryl Cook, and Dan Guenther, have minor roles. Student Eric Rus is the stage manager, looking after the sound and special effects. While the play was written in three acts, MDHS's version will be performed in two acts.
