

Award for conservation helpers

The Halton Region Conservation Authority would like to hear about those who care about the environment or have done a good deed for conservation.

The organization is accepting nominations for the Ralph Sherwood Conservation Award, named after a long-standing and distinguished HRCA member.

The award program started in 1982 to recognize organizations and individuals that care about conservation and have undertaken projects which enhance and protect the environment.

The award is presented to a citizen or group that has made an outstanding contribution to conservation in the Halton watershed.

Nominees can include such groups as teacher associations and federations, Scout and Guide organizations, naturalist clubs, corporations, government agencies, and private landowners.

The winners' names are placed on a plaque, displayed in the lobby of the HRCA's administration office, and an individual plaque is presented to the recipients.

Nominations for the conservation award can be submitted up to December 31. Forms are available at the HRCA administration office at 2596 Britannia Rd. W., R. 2 Milton, Ont., L9T 2X6, or call 336-1158.

Annual Family Night

St. John cadets earn awards

Donald DeBaie was named Cadet of the Year and Pamela Hicks won the Best All Round Cadet of the Year award for their efforts in the St. John Ambulance Cadet corps at the group's recent family night.

Two new members were welcomed into the local cadets, Andrew LeBret and Christine Punton. Emergency First Aid Certificates, proficiency awards and service stripes were received by Cadet Corporal

Pamela Hicks, Cadets Donald DeBaie, Andrew LeBret and Christine Punton.

Division Superintendent Keith Laws included in his remarks that evening the hope that next year membership would increase.

St. John Ambulance Cadets are between the ages of 11 and 16. It's a co-ed program with no membership fee and a free uniform. Throughout the year members work on various proficiency tasks, attend summer camps and as senior members have an opportunity to travel overseas.

Cadets also attend public events on duty with adult members of St. John Ambulance, a volunteer organization that provides first aid at public events.
