Lots of toys

Was last year when Santa brought me a big box of toys.

Saw Santa

It all started last year when I fell off the sleigh into the horse dump. Then I went to the bathroom and I fell into the toilette. It was bedtime but I wasn't tired so when my Mom and Dad went to bed, I went downstairs by the tree. At about eleven o'clock I heard something on the roof. I got up and hid behind the tree and there was a great big fat person. It was Santa Claus. He walked over to the tree and put presents under the tree.

Togetherness

The snow was falling and our Christmas lights were blinking like Rudolph's nose.

Our fireplace was filled with roaring flame. My mom was working busily in the kitchen baking gingerbread boys with chocolate chip eyes.

The aroma of pine trees was floating throughout the house.

My sister and I had just finished placing our wreath on the front door.

My brother was busily hunting through the house for his presents. Outside and all bundled up like an Eskimo, my dad was snowblowing our driveway.

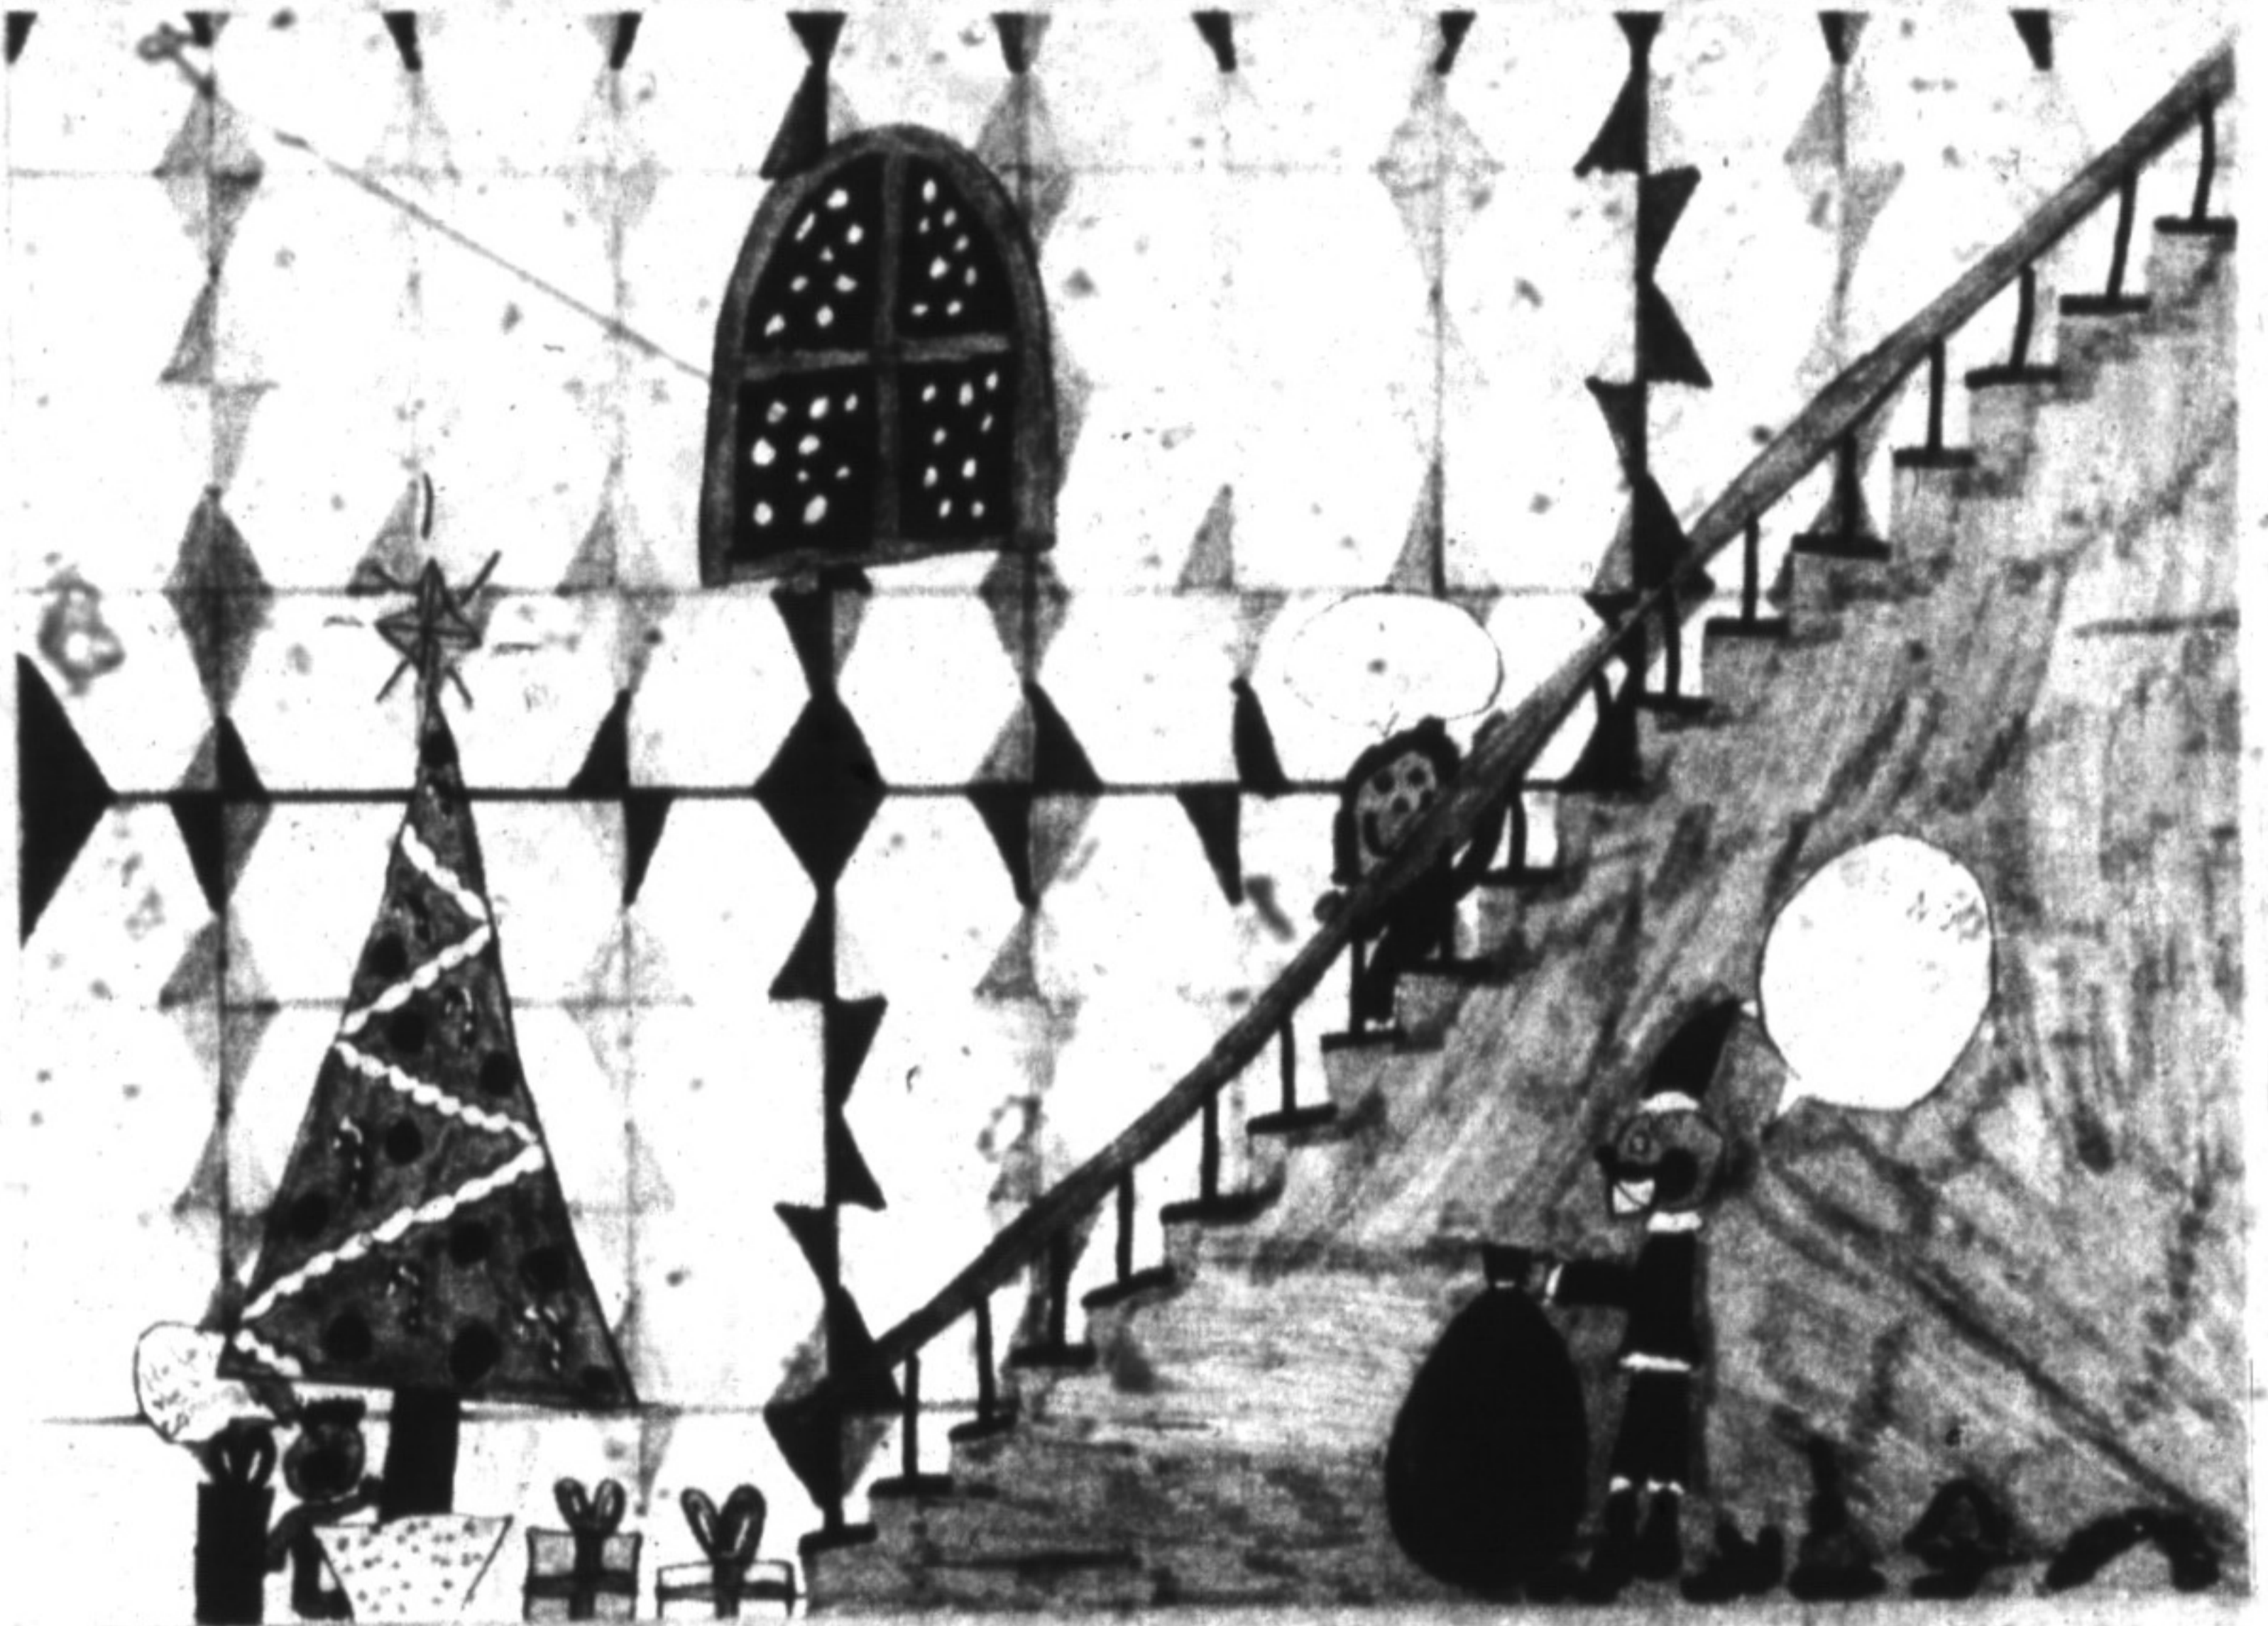

As we sat down for a Christmas Eve dinner we thought back to the day's events and how we had all been together for something that we all loved.

Visitors

When my Nan, Grumpy and Cory came over to visit. They brought some deer meat with them. We ate the meat for dinner. They played with us all the time. I love them.

In a trailer

When I was 7, I had Christmas in a trailer because my house burnt down. I had a bunk bed. My brother had his birthday in the trailer. My brother had a bunk bed, too. But now we are back in my house.

Sleigh ride

It was almost Christmas night. I couldn't wait for my presents so I went looking for them. I didn't get anything. I was so mad at my Mom that I told them. They said they were sorry and I could get anything I wanted.

So I got a horse. It was called Kerrie. It was Christmas morning. I ran down the stairs so happy and glad to see a present for me, a puppy for me. Then I remembered my horse Kerrie. So then we went on a sleigh ride. It was fun we were gone for the whole day.

Tree fell

One morning I woke up and I went down the stairs to see what the noise was. It was nothing. I went up the stairs but I heard something again downstairs. It was the Christmas tree falling down.

Big red sled

One Christmas Eve I was so happy because the next day was Christmas Day. I got one whole pack of candy. There was mints, suckers, and stuff like that. But the thing I liked the best was a big red sled that I could go down lots of hills on.

Live snowman

Santa brought presents. My stocking was full. After I played with my things. I went outside and made a snowman and a fort. Then the snowman came alive and she danced. I went skating on the ice.
