call and both benches once again started using unprintable adjectives with unprintable nouns.

When asked what he did the afternoon of a night game Berra replied: I usually take a two hour nap, from one to four."

In the eighth inning Blackadar was due up again. The Glanbrook team had made some ominous predictions earlier about what might happen to him in his next turn at bat and maybe an insinuation or two that he would need some H.J.M. insurance. With the game in hand, manager Glenn Turner wisely removed Blackadar for a pinch-hitter to make sure it didn't get out of hand and to save the sponsor some money. Blackadar and the Grizzly first baseman even shook hands after the game, completely spoiling the mood, but it was the politically correct thing to do.

Berra, before his first year of managing, defending his lack of experience: "You observe a lot by watching."

Brent Currie was the hitting star for Milton with three singles in four trips to the plate. He also hit safely in the previous game which means he only needs 54 more to catch Joe DiMaggio for the all-time record.

After agreeing to play a word association game with a reporter who started off by saying 'Joe DiMaggio': "What about him?"

The Red Sox are now 4-10 but need to make a serious run if they want to make the playoffs. This weekend they play two important games at Brian Best Park — Saturday at 1:30 versus Dundas and Sunday at 2:00 against Erindale.

Berra describing a pennant race: "It ain't over til it's over."

Minor peewees take consolation baseball win

The Nadalin Electric minor peewee rep baseball team earned the win in the consolation final at the team's first tournament of the season in Brampton June 11 to 13.

Milton qualified for the semi-finals by beating West Hill 5-4 and Guelph 7-0. The local boys lost to the Brampton Royals in a close 2-1 game but met that squad again in the consolation final and this time won 2-0 after seven tight innings.

It was the Milton team's league rivals, the Brampton Braves that put them into the consolation round after Milton suffered a disappointing 5-2 loss in the semi-final.

Rusk picked by Chicago

took him, they become a little intimidated and think they're better off looking elsewhere than taking a chance.

Rusk can take heart in the fact that a lot of good players weren't selected by anybody. That, and the fact that the Blackhawks were extremely pleased to get him.

Rusk had the opportunity to talk to coach Darryl Sutter who said he thought he had been selected much earlier.

Sutter himself was a ninth round selection for the Blackhawks back in 1978 and he ended up playing 11 seasons for the team.

Of course, it's what a player does after the draft that determines a player's future and Rusk is even more determined than he was before saying that he will, "throw in an extra 50 per cent of work" to prove something to the teams that didn't select him.

He'll start doing that September 8 when he attends the Blackhawk training camp. Then it will back to the Guelph Storm in the OHL, this year anyway, where Rusk will continue to work and improve.
