ALLENDALE
THE NURSING VOICE OF ALLENDALE

This week nurses are being recognized for their role in health care.

The past year has been one of many changes and challenges at Allendale.

The nurses are members of the interdisciplinary team and have a holistic approach to care. Our residents and families are encouraged to be involved in all aspects to ensure individualized care is provided.

In the next year, the nursing staff look forward to meeting the challenges being outlined in the long term care redirection and anticipate a smooth transition.

Our residents always come first and we believe our nursing mission to be that "our residents will enjoy a high quality of life as possible provided by nursing staff who derive satisfaction from their work".
