

Cops looking for Ford pick-up truck

Halton Regional Police are looking for a cream-coloured Ford pick-up truck involved in a single-vehicle crash Friday.

The pick-up, which bore a Nova Scotia licence plate, was travelling northbound on Ontario Street at 12:30 a.m. when it hit the northeast corner of Steeles Avenue and went out of control.

The vehicle drove onto the grass, smashed into a fence on the Petro Canada property and fled the scene. A damage estimate was not available.

Homes broken into

Thieves crawled through the window of a Guelph Line home July 19 while the residents were sleeping and stole a camera and an undisclosed amount of cash.

The loss in the break-in, which occurred between midnight and 6 a.m., totalled $1,300.

The culprits who broke into a First Line home preferred to work during the day. The home was ransacked during the daylight hours July 19. The thieves forced open a door and made off with a television, wrist watch and some cash.

Residents turning in many weapons during amnesty

More weapons are being turned in at police stations across the province. Nearly 2,000 items have been gathered by law enforcement agencies in Ontario at the midway point of the provincial firearms amnesty program.

By the end of the sixth week of the 13-week program, which began June 1, 1,880 weapons of varying sorts had been dropped off by citizens to the OPP and other police services around the province.

Individuals surrendering weapons to police are free from prosecution, as long as the guns haven't been used in a crime.

As of July 9 the breakdown of weapons accumulated was as follows: 598 non-restricted rifles; 419 handguns; 302 shotguns; 216 "near" firearms, such as crossbows, machetes, mace and martial arts apparatus and 170 explosive devices. Nearly 60,000 bullets and shotgun shells have also been taken in.

Weapons can be taken to any police service in Ontario until August 31.

Police Blotter

No one was home at the time of the break-in, which took the owner for a property loss of $1,200.

Impaired charges laid

Police charged three people with impaired driving-related offences recently.

A 19-year-old Broadway Avenue man was charged with driving with over the legal limit of alcohol in his blood Saturday after a vehicle was stopped on Ontario Street North at 12:30 a.m.

Charges were laid after a motorist was stopped for speeding on Ontario Street Saturday at 10:25 a.m. A 31-year-old Ashbrook Court man faces charges of impaired driving and refusing to provide a breath sample.

A 23-year-old Hamilton man was charged with impaired driving and driving with over the legal limit of alcohol in his blood after an officer on patrol spotted a vehicle travelling at a high rate of speed at Steeles Avenue and Martin Street Sunday at 6:02 a.m.
