

Mean machines draw multitudes

All summer long people have been gathering at the Canadian Tire parking lot Sunday afternoons to show off their vintage and not-so-vintage cars. The event has grown to include hundreds. Last week, the car buffs donated $3,500 in gate proceeds to Milton District Hospital, a nice way to cap a successful summer. In the photos at top, various personalized licence plates convey owners' feelings. Above, Mark Milford checks out his dad's 1940 Ford Coupe. At top right some idea of the crowd is seen, while at bottom right owner Mike Fisher (left) talks shop with Jay Mayes as they take in his 1963 Chev Impala.
