Simhoni sisters shine at Royal

By SAMANTHA MCGRATH KING
Special to The Champion

The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair is like a breath of fresh country air when it arrives in Toronto each year. The fragrances inside the Horse Palace might be a little too much country for some, but for two Milton riders everything came up smelling like roses.

Shirra Simhoni, 13, and Laura Simhoni, 12, both highlighted their year of showing horses on the "A" circuit by earning the right to compete at the fair. Coached by Susan Pritchard, also of Milton, the two girls and their horses had to accumulate points through spring and summer shows in order to qualify for the top event of the season.

This was Shirra Simhoni's fifth year at the Royal Winter Fair but her first with Westside, an eight-year-old thoroughbred. Shirra's younger sister, Laura, was competing for her fourth time and her second with Nakiska, a 12-year-old Welsh cross.

Shirra showed Westside to two 7th place ribbons in the Junior Working Hunter division, and an eighth in the gruelling C.E.F. Medal, where riders are tested over fences and on the flat. Her best result was a sixth in the Canadian Bred Hunter, where she competed with professionals as the youngest rider in the field.

Laura qualified for the Royal with a string of Champion and Reserve Champion rosettes on the summer show circuit. She earned two seventh place finishes and was eighth in the Medium Working Hunter Pony division. The chance to compete with the best has been rewarding for both girls, who will train throughout the winter for next year's show circuit.
