

Prison official arrested

The Canadian Champion, Friday, February 2, 1996

A Maplehurst Correctional Centre supervisor has been arrested in connection with reports of sexual and physical abuse at a former girls' school in Cambridge.

Albert Ernest Dearlove, 48, of Cambridge faces charges of gross indecency, indecent assault and breach of trust in alleged incidents involving a student of the Grandview Training School between 1974 and 1976.

Mr. Dearlove, who currently supervises Maplehurst correctional officers, was a supervisor of juveniles at the school from 1972 to 1976. The school, which was also known as the Ontario Training School for Girls (Galt), closed in 1976.

The charges were laid following a joint-forces investigation by Waterloo Regional Police and the OPP. The investigation was launched in response to allegations of sexual and physical abuse by six former students, said Inspector Brian Kocurke of Waterloo Regional Police.

Another 48-year-old Cambridge man faces charges of rape, sexual intercourse with a female ward, three counts of gross indecency, five counts of indecent assault on a female and five counts of breach of trust. The man, who was also a supervisor of juveniles at the school, was a police officer with the Hespeler Police Department from 1968 to 1971. His charges involve alleged incidents of abuse toward five students between 1972 and 1974.

Going through the paces

Diane Fleming of Canine Vision Canada works with one of her students (left), two year old retriever Wendel, in Victoria Park. The session is called "Country Travel", part of a six-month training course for guide dogs. In the session Wendel is charged with guiding Diane away from traffic and other obstacles in an area where there are no sidewalks. After a job well done (above) Diane rewards Wendel with a little affection.
