

Fine music will fill stage

Some of Milton's finest musical talent will take the stage Thursday night to raise their voices in song for a good cause.

Guest soprano Laura Jeffrey will join award-winning pianist David Sharpe and accompanist Judy Hunter for "An Evening of Fine Music" at the Milton Seniors Centre auditorium. The performance gets underway at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Sharpe, a graduate of the Mt. Allison University music program, won the 1995 Atlantic Young Artist competition, which resulted in an eight-city solo concert tour of the east coast's major centres last fall.

Ms Jeffrey, a Milton based recitalist and voice teacher, won the 1994 Edward Johnson Music Foundation scholarship for performing excellence.

Tickets are $15 and $10, and are available at the St. Paul's United Church office (878-8895), at Delacourt's and at Loneragan Insurance. Proceeds go to the St. Paul's renovation fund.

page or do an entire product line," said Mr. Richter, who suggested businesses begin their on-line marketing with hot-selling products.

"We can make changes quickly," said Mr. Gosse. "We're real sticklers about that. If information has changed, well, the businesses don't want old information out there, it's like a misprinted advertisement."

He added that by opening up on-line advertising for reasonable costs, more businesses will be able to take the plunge into the new marketing format. Grass Roots Consulting can be reached at (905) 456-9333.
