

Car dealership says thanks for the local support

Gorrud Sales and Leasing is saying thank you to the people of Milton this weekend with their second annual Customer Appreciation Day.

The Steeles Avenue used car dealership has been operating for 35 years and has grown significantly during the 1990's. To repay Miltonians for their patronage, the dealership is staging a number of festivities free of charge on Saturday.

Coffee and doughnuts will be available to visitors from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. while hamburgers, hot dogs and drinks will be offered from noon until 2 p.m. A complimentary car wash will also be available between 10 a.m. and noon. All are welcome.

Pat Kotack, dealership spokesperson, hopes that people will drop by and check on the progress of Gorrud's renovation project. A second story is being added to the original building.

Customers kick back in cafe

A new Main Street cafe is offering a unique atmosphere where customers can ease back and really enjoy their cup of coffee.

Krug's, The Coffee Spot opened its doors in early June across the street from Knox Presbyterian Church. An array of comfortable couches, finely detailed area rugs and colourful floral arrangements present customers with a relaxing environment while a wide storefront window offers a picturesque view of historic downtown Milton. A play area with a variety of games and toys is available for children as well.

"We're trying to create our own thing," says Kirk Krueger, proprietor of the new cafe. He believes that Krug's will offer an atmosphere different than that of a regular coffee shop.

As well as freshly brewed coffee, the cafe sells a wide array of preservative-free foods ranging from muffins and scones to cookies and bagels. In the coming weeks freshly baked bread will be added to the menu. Mr. Krueger plans to have different coffees and "tasties" appear daily in order to add variety to the menu.

New grocery store opens

Anyone who blinked during the latter part of April may have missed the arrival of a new grocery store in the White Oaks Plaza. Savemore is the new business in town, having moved into the store vacated by IGA. But don't go in expecting the same set-up previously offered by IGA. The new green and yellow Savemore sign isn't the only difference, says the store's spokesperson, Judy Besharat. Prices throughout the store have been lowered, the produce and deli departments have been expanded and the store itself has been given a facelift. Savemore also plans to have monthly prize draws for customers.

Last Sunday saw the grocery store's grand opening, accompanied by a barbecue fundraiser. Proceeds from Savemore's barbecue went to helping Hope Place, an organization for alcoholic women.

A number of draws were held during Savemore's opening week, June 3-9. Lucky winners earned gift certificates equal to the value of their purchase and one fortunate soul took home a seven piece patio set.
